Nazis Nearing End

H. G. Wells, famed British author, steps from liner on arrival in Los Angeles to lecture on "Future of Mankind." "I think the Germans are nearing the end of their tether," said Wells. "It's true, the submarine menace has been revived, but we have tackled that before and know how to handle it. Lord Halifax is the quintessence of all that English-speaking men are afraid of. If we are to win it is essential that Halifax leave. The Halifax point of view is unsound." Wells will return to London on December 10.

The War Today

By GUY RHODES

FOUND AT LAST

British forces finally have found the Italian fleet and crippled it, but it took aircraft, not ships, to do the job.

Mussolini's battleships which have studiously avoided coming in contact with the British Mediterranean fleet were found yesterday "snuggling behind their shore defences," in the words of the Admiralty. They were holed in at the Taranto naval base where British planes bombed them.

At least two and possibly three Italian battleships were smashed, along with two cruisers and two auxiliaries. The battleships were among the world's most powerful.

TRoubles MULTIPLY

Mussolini's grief, it seems, come not singly but in battalions. His troops on the Albanian frontier apparently are trying still to re-form and stem the Greek thrust when routed them after their brief advance in the first days of the Balkan war. Additional Italian troops fell into Greek hands and the amount of military equipment the Greeks seized has not yet been counted.

The Admiralty did not identify the aircraft which bombed Taranto, but Prime Minister Churchill said the attack "reflects the greatest honor on the fleet air arm." Possibly the planes were flown off the decks of the aircraft carrier Ark Royal, which has been cruising in the Mediterranean.

ACHIEVE REVENGE

The naval blow at the Axis was sweet revenge for the sinking by a German commerce raider of the lightly-armed British merchant cruiser Jervis Bay. That ship went down in the Atlantic after fighting the raider for two hours and permitting most of its convoy of 36 merchantmen to escape.

Sixty-five members of the crew were taken into an east coast Canadian port by a Swedish vessel whose skipper put about and returned to the scene after five hours because, he said: "They did so well for us that I did not like to leave them."

Blockade Extended

LONDON (CP)—The government announced today extension of its blockade to include Syria, French West Africa, Liberia, Portuguese Guinea, Madagascar and Reunion Island—territories lying on three sides of Africa.

LaGuardia Due Here Tomorrow

MAYOR F. H. LaGUARDIA

Mayor Fiorello H. LaGuardia of New York is expected to visit Victoria tomorrow as directing head of the American section of the Canada-United States Defence Board.

The colorful New York chief magistrate, with seven other members of the joint commission, arrived at San Francisco last night by plane from the east, joining four other commissioners who reached the Golden Gate Sunday.

The joint defence commission is making a general survey of the Pacific coast defence problem.

From San Francisco the group plans to fly to Seattle and will come here tomorrow by a U.S. army vessel.

Apart from Mayor LaGuardia, the American section of the board is composed of Capt. H. W. Hill and Com. F. R. Sherman, U.S. navy; Major C. K. Gally, U.S. army; and John Hickerson of the U.S. State Department.

The Canadian section is headed by Col. O. M. Biggar, with Capt. L. W. Murray, R.C.N., deputy chief of the naval staff; Brig. Kenneth Stuart, Air Commodore A. A. L. Cuffie, Col. G. P. Vanier, former Canadian minister to France, and Hugh L. Keenleyside of the Department of External Affairs.

In San Francisco Mayor LaGuardia said "It would be very unwise if anyone tried to attack the United States or Canada."

"I am pretty sure they won't get by," he added.

He said as fast as the commission reaches conclusions, recommendations are being made to the 16 governments so that in the event of attack they won't have

3 Italian Battleships Smashed By British; Also 2 Cruisers

LONDON (CP)—Three battleships and two cruisers of the Italian fleet were damaged seriously in an attack by British naval bombers at Taranto, southern Italy, between the "heel and the toe of the boot," the Admiralty announced today.

Two of the battleships were damaged so badly they were run ashore to prevent them from sinking.

The battleship losses mean Italy's battleship strength is cut in half.

The Admiralty declared the Italian cruisers suffered such extensive damage from British bombs that "it may take six months to repair them."

Supply Ship Sunk, 2 Set on Fire

In addition to these successes, British warships sank one Italian supply ship, set two others on fire and damaged a fourth supply ship and an Italian destroyer in an attack on a convoy off the port of Valona, Albania, the Admiralty announced today.

A communique said the attack was carried out on the night of November 11-12 when a squadron patrolling the main line of Italian communications across the Strait of Otranto, between Italy and Albania, intercepted the convoy, four supply ships, escorted by two destroyers.

Churchill Tells Commons

In the House of Commons today, Prime Minister Churchill, all smiles, read the Admiralty communique on the attack at Taranto to the members.

"I feel it my duty to bring this glorious episode to the immediate notice of the House," Mr. Churchill said, adding: "As a result of a determined and highly successful attack which reflects the greatest honor on the fleet air arm, only three of the Italian battleships now remain effective."

"This result," he said, "while affecting decisively the balance of naval power in the Mediterranean, also carries with it reactions upon the naval situation in every quarter of the globe."

"The spirit of the Royal Navy, shown in this daring attack, is also exemplified in the forlorn and heroic action fought by the captain, officers and ship's company of His Majesty's ship Jervis Bay in giving battle against overwhelming odds in order to protect the merchant convoy (in the north Atlantic) which they were escorting and thus secure the escape of by far the greater part of the convoy."

(Survivors of the Jervis Bay, an armed merchant cruiser, arived in a Canadian port yesterday after battling a German warship which attacked a British convoy November 5 in mid-Atlantic.)

Big Warships Freed for Hunt

The successful bombing attack at Taranto will release powerful units of the British Mediterranean fleet to join in the hunt for the surface raider in the Atlantic, neutral naval sources in London said today.

Scores of British men of war are reported already scouring the seas for the raider, which may be the pocket battleship Admiral Scheer or its sister ship, the Luetzow, armed with 6 11-inch guns.

Only three ships in the British navy are judged by experts to be equal to the task of single-handedly catching and then destroying one of these 10,000-ton pocket battleships.

They are the 42,100-ton battlecruiser Hood and the 32,000-ton battlecruiser Renown and Repulse.

However, three light cruisers, armed with smaller guns, concentrated last December on the Admiral Graf Spee, third of the pocket battleship class, and drove her into Montevideo harbor, outside which later she was scuttled by her crew.

Should the present German raider be sighted by one of British lone smaller ships, British tactics probably would be to "shadow" it until heavier British forces could be brought up, neutral sources said.

The Admiralty communique said:

"The Royal Navy has struck a crippling blow at the Italian fleet, the main units of which were lying snuggling behind their shore defences in their main base at Taranto."

Photos Prove Bombers' Success

"In the night of November 11 and 12, aircraft of the fleet air arm carried out an attack, the results of which have now been established by photographic reconnaissance."

"It is now known that one battleship of the Littorio class (35,000 tons, 9 15-inch guns) is badly down by the bow, that her forecastle is under water, and that she has a heavy list to starboard."

(The Littorio and her sister ship, among the most powerful battleships in the world, were only recently commissioned.)

"One Cavour class battleship (Conte di Cavour (23,622 tons, 12 16-inch guns) has been beached and, from her stern up and including the after turret, is under water. The ship is listing heavily to starboard."

"It has not been possible to establish the fact with certainty, but it appears probable that a second battleship of the Cavour class also has been severely damaged."

"In the inner harbor, two cruisers are listed to starboard and are surrounded by oil fuel. Two fleet auxiliaries are lying with their sterns under water."

Just Don't Be Surprised If This Happens

"The total strength of the Italian battle fleet was six battleships, two of the Littorio class, which have just been put into service, and four of the recently-reconstructed Cavour class."

Battleships Cut to Half

"As a result of this determined and highly successful attack probably only three Italian battleships now remain effective."

"It will be recalled that the Italian communique issued on the 12th of November admitted one warship had been badly damaged. The Italian communique also claimed that six of our aircraft were shot down and three more probably shot down. In fact only two of our aircraft are missing."

and it is noted that the enemy claim that part of the crew have been taken prisoner."

(A communique from the Italian high command, issued Wednesday in Rome, said: "Enemy airplanes raided Brindisi, Taranto and Bari. Only in the last city were bombs dropped. They caused slight damage and injured three persons.")

Planes carrying aerial torpedoes made the attack at Taranto, it was reported in naval circles in London.

It would be impossible, these sources said, for bombs to do enough damage to a heavily armored battleship of the Littorio class to force her forecastle under water.

Aerial torpedoes must be launched by dive bombing if they are to have a reasonable chance of striking their target, the informants said.

Loss of three of his biggest warships makes even more remote the goal of Mussolini to break Britain's mastery of the Mediterranean, particularly in the eastern basin, which is vital to British interests in the Near East.

The two cruisers damaged brought to three the Italian warships of this type put out of action by Empire naval forces since the start of the war.

The fast 3,069-ton cruiser Bartolomeo Colleoni was sunk by the Australian cruiser Sydney in a naval engagement last July in the Mediterranean.

The Taranto naval base is strongly guarded and fortified.

Final Bulletins

6 MORE SHIPS OF CONVOY SAFE

LONDON (CP)—Six more ships of the British convoy which was attacked by a German surface raider in the north Atlantic on November 5 have reached port safely, it was announced tonight.

This left only three ships still unaccounted for, an earlier statement having reported 29 safe.

The Admiralty listed the latest six reported safe as the St. Gobain, Stureholm, Cetus, Tre-fusis, Puck and Sovac.

Coe Trial Continues

DUNCAN, B.C. (CP)—Trial of Charles N. Coe, Victoria, charged under the Defence of Canada Regulations, continued here today after being adjourned from yesterday.

Coe is one of a group of five Victoria men charged with possessing literature likely to prejudice the safety of the state.

to get in a huddle and make decisions hurriedly."

LaGuardia said he would like to correct a misunderstanding. "We are not in the real estate or purchasing business," he explained. "Our purpose is to study plans for joint defence of the United States and Canada in the event of a major attack on either coast. The purpose is purely defensive, military and naval, and its plans are strategic."

No Channel Reply By Nazi Guns

LONDON (AP)—British bombers were reported this evening to have hurled a surprise daylight attack at Germany's "invasion ports" on the French coast today at the same time that long-range British coastal guns were pumping shells across the Channel.

The artillery bombardment continued throughout the day.

There was no indication that German guns mounted on the opposite shore across the English Channel returned the fire.

Villacoublay Bombed

PARIS, France, via Berlin (Delayed)—A.P.—Two air raid alarms were sounded in the Paris region Sunday night and Monday morning when British planes attacked the Villacoublay airport, occupied by the Germans.

Officials claimed the damage was slight. No bombs fell in Paris.

Cremated

LONDON (CP)—The body of Neville Chamberlain, former Prime Minister who died Saturday, was cremated today at Golders Green mortuary in north London. There was no ceremony.

Birmingham, Coventry Churches Bombed

Old St. Martin's Church in London Hit

LONDON (CP)—German and Italian planes failed in two attempts to bomb London today, but broke through the defences of the capital's outskirts on the third try. Other Axis planes moved with greater success against towns in Wales and the Midlands.

Roof-top watchers in the centre of the city heard gunfire and exploding bombs during the third warning, but the all clear was soon sounded, indicating the raiders had been driven off again.

Four of the Axis bombers were shot down in widespread air fighting, the Ministries of Home Security and Air announced tonight. One of the planes was Italian. It burst into flames over Sussex and its cargo of bombs exploded in midair.

Raiders were attempted in several parts of the country, most of them in southeast England, and many bombs were dropped. But the two ministries said "scarcely any damage" was done.

Cathedrals in Birmingham and Coventry were among the built-

St. Martin's Church Damaged By Bomb

The government today permitted publication of the fact that the church of St. Martin-in-the-Fields—the King's parish off Trafalgar Square—has been damaged in a recent raid. The Royal College of Surgeons and the Swedish church in Rotherhithe also were hit.

(St. Martin's-in-the-Fields was erected in the early 18th century on the site of an earlier structure. The register of the old church, still preserved, contains an entry on the baptism of Francis Bacon, Nell Gwynne, mistress of King Charles II, and Farquhar, the Restoration comedy writer, are buried there. All royal children are registered in the church at birth.)

Birmingham Cathedral Hit By Nazi Raiders

Cathedrals in Birmingham and Coventry were among the built-

ings recently damaged by German bombs, it was disclosed today.

(The pro-cathedral of Birmingham—that is, a parish church used as a cathedral—is St. Philip's Church, designed by a pupil of Sir Christopher Wren. The second church built in the smoky industrial city, home of the late Neville Chamberlain, it was consecrated in 1715. It contains a series of stained-glass windows by Burne-Jones.)

Coventry Steeple 303 Feet High

(At nearby Coventry, St. Michael's Church, a cathedral since 1918, lifts its 303-foot steeple above the remaining ruins of fortifications nearly 900 years old.)

Sirens wailed in London at mid-forenoon today as rescue workers doggedly burrowed into the debris of buildings, including a crowded theatre, hit during the series of long raids last night. Squadrons of British Hurricane and German Messerschmitt planes fought a running battle along the coast after the Nazi raiders had dive-bombed a south-east coast town.

The raiders dived in single file, each dropping a single bomb. The Hurricanes intercepted the last group.

Observers along the coast could see planes climbing and diving all the way out to mid-Channel as the Germans sent over reinforcements. Long bursts of machine gun fire were heard. At times the planes barely skimmed the cliff tops.

"Hundreds" of raiders were reported by observers on the south-east coast to be heading toward London only a few hours after the all-clear signal had sounded the end of an all-night alarm.

Royal Air Force fighters went up to engage the Germans, and the all-clear sounded in the capital shortly before noon. One of the raiders was reported downed in a dogfight over the southeast coast.

of German surface raiders.

The Canadian auxiliary cruiser Prince Robert arrived at the port of Valparaiso, south of Valparaiso, to take on stores.

Censor's approved announcement of Prince Robert's arrival in Chile will silence rumors that she had gone through the Panama Canal and had encountered in the Atlantic.

Tories Disagree

VANCOUVER (CP)—A group of 50 delegates walked out of the Vancouver Centre Conservative Association's annual meeting here last night to form their own organization after an hour-long argument over whether a non-resident should be allowed to sit as a member in the riding.

Mark Cosgrove was named president of the new group, which quit the meeting after protests against non-residents sitting for the riding were ruled out of order.

Retreating Italians Abandon Wounded

Lull on Greek Front Proves Italian Weakness

ATHENS (AP)—Military observers here today said a lull along the entire Greek-Italian front indicates the first phase of the campaign is at an end.

It was believed here that Gen. Ubaldo Soddu, under-secretary of war and newly-appointed commander-in-chief of the Italian forces in Albania, was reorganizing his troops and devising a new plan of campaign. Supporting this view was the fact that there has been no Italian attack of any consequence in the past few days.

The Greeks took advantage of the lull to strengthen their lines.

Snow and rain made conditions in the mountains difficult.

Athenians See 500 Prisoners

Last night 500 Italian prisoners arrived in Athens.

A high command communique said: "The number of Italians taken prisoner in Epirus is increasing," and included "wounded abandoned by the enemy."

One company of Albanian troops, officers and all, was said to have surrendered as Greek forces pressed forward in most places to their own frontier, which

Italians had crossed from Albania 17 days ago.

The Greek advance was reported to have thrust the Fascist invasion divisions back into Albania, except for a shallow salient in Epirus, near the coast.

Greeks Hold Koritza Gains

Greeks said their own counter-attack into Albania, at the northern end of the front, had been defended successfully despite Italian "reconnaissance raids" against Greek-held heights around Koritza.

A Ministry of Home Security communique said a town in Epirus and another in western Macedonia were bombed yesterday by Italian planes, with some civilian casualties.

The Greeks continued to add to their war stores equipment found abandoned by Italian troops driven back to Albania. The high command said 75-millimetre guns, many howitzers and much other equipment, together with the flags of some of the Italian units, had been seized.

(Dispatches to Jerusalem from Beirut last night said French authorities under rule of the Vichy administration had refused to permit 3,000 Greeks of military age to leave the mandated territories of Syria and Lebanon to help defend their homeland.)

ITALIAN CLAIMS

ROME (AP)—The Italian high command said in a communique today:

"Activity of patrols and artillery actions are taking place in the Koritza sector. Enemy attempts to approach our advanced positions beyond the frontier in the Epirus sector were completely repelled.

"Our air formations bombed enemy positions in the Pindus Mountains, near the Mitzuni-Ioannina crossroads, and in the vicinity of Kalibaki and Filipade. In the Berat zone, a Blenheim plane was shot down by our fighters.

"Enemy planes carried out raids on Durazzo (Albania), killing and wounding some persons. An enemy plane probably was shot down.

"During an offensive exploration flight over Malta, one of our fighter planes was shot down."

R.A.F. Blasts Lorient, Ruhr Rail Centres

Nazi Sub Base, Oil Plants Hit

LONDON (CP)—German oil plants, factories and railway centres, the submarine base at Lorient on the French coast and other German invasion bases were heavily bombed by the Royal Air Force last night, the Air Ministry announced today.

The British fleet, covering familiar territory, roared over the oil plants at Gelsenkirchen and Cologne, the ministry's communique said, and also struck at the inland port of Duisburg, Ruhrort and railway centres and factories in the Ruhr and the Cologne neighborhood.

Docks at Flushing and Dunkerque and several German airbases were hit, the ministry said.

One British plane was lost.

GERMAN CLAIMS

BERLIN (AP)—A communique from the German high command today said:

"Last night, a number of British planes dropped bombs in western Germany, nearly all of which fell in open fields, causing terrain damage. In one locality only a dwelling house was destroyed, and two other houses and a water main were damaged.

Several persons outside a shelter were injured. Damage caused to a railroad track in another place was quickly repaired."

Subway Station, Shelter Hit

Bomb Wrecks London Theatre

LONDON (CP)—A direct hit on a crowded London theatre was scored by Nazi planes last night.

The number of casualties resulting from the theatre bombing remained uncertain today as rescue workers dug in the wreckage in search of dead and injured.

At least two other London motion picture theatres were damaged by bombs during the night, but the results were not serious.

A subway station and an air-raid shelter were among the other places in the capital struck by bombs. The hit on the subway tied up service temporarily, and buses were placed in operation to shuttle passengers around the damaged section.

The Nazi night attacks, which the government said were "on a fairly heavy scale," were concentrated on London and the industrial Midlands, but bombs also fell in isolated areas elsewhere.

The Liverpool dock area along the Mersey River was one of the targets of the raiders, who attacked early in the night.

The Ministries of Air and Home Security said damage was widespread, but not severe in view of the scale of the assaults, and that casualties were few outside London.

About 1,000 Londoners sitting in one movie theatre narrowly escaped death when a bomb plunged through the roof of the orchestra pit, exploding below the floor level.

Three trolley bus passengers were killed and eight injured when a bomb exploded in a street.

GERMAN CLAIMS

BERLIN (AP)—Wednesday's German high command communique said:

"While the British air force on the night of November 11-12 was paralyzed by storm and icing danger, German combat units successfully continued retaliatory flights against London.

"London also was attacked during the day. A gasworks and storage houses in Kensington were severely hit. Further successful bomb raids were directed against port and traffic facilities, storehouses, armament plants and a power plant in southern England. British ports again were mined.

"It is reported supplementarily that the number of planes shot down by the Italian air force on November 11 has been increased to 10."

Oil to Japan

BATAVIA, Netherlands East Indies (AP)—An agreement under which Japan obtains an increase in her annual oil imports from the Netherlands East Indies from 494,000 to 1,800,000 tons, with big United States and British companies acting as importing agents, was announced here today.

The agreement was concluded between Dutch colonial and oil company officials and Tadashu Mukai, chairman of the huge Mitsui interests and representative of Japanese oil companies, but the Standard Vacuum Oil Company and the Rising Sun Petroleum Company, Japan subsidiary of the British Shell interests, will act as importers for the Japanese.

Officials of the Standard and Shell interests, extensive owners of East Indies oil properties and largest exporters from these islands, were consulted in the long, difficult negotiations which produced the accord.

The Exeter's captain, S. H. Ransome, said the ship was fired on twice by a British patrol which failed to recognize her November 3, 12 miles off Lisbon. She was not hit.

All Timber Orders Come to Canada

OTTAWA (CP)—Canadian forests now supply almost all of Britain's timber requirements. Munitions Minister Howe said, with purchases in Canada by the British timber controller amounting to about $45,000,000 this year. British orders include airplane spruce, birch logs for making aircraft plywood, box shooks, pit props, and lumber for general repair and building purposes.

About 75 per cent of Great Britain's prewar requirements were supplied from the Baltic countries, France, and the Danube Valley. With these sources cut off by war and with purchases from the United States limited by need for conserving foreign exchange, Britain now was largely dependent on Canada.

More Gold

NEW YORK (AP)—The United States export liner Exeter docked yesterday with 187 passengers, 82 of them Americans, and $3,000,000 worth of gold consigned from the Bank of Portugal to the Federal Reserve Bank in New York.

British Win, Lose, Then Retake Gallabat, Sudan

LONDON (CP)—British India and white troops captured, lost and recaptured Gallabat, in the Anglo-Egyptian Sudan near the Ethiopian border, in a four-day action which involved five battalions of Italian and Askari (native) troops, military circles reported today.

British artillery was reported by these military sources to be shelling now the Italian fortified camps at Mettemma, near Gallabat, and they said shell dumps and gasoline depots there were in flames.

The Italians "suffered heavily" in the fighting, the sources said. Forward point of one of several Italian thrusts at Egypt, Gallabat was first taken by the Italians last summer.

The British forces were understood to have attacked Gallabat first in the early hours of November 6 and evicted an Italian battalion in an action which lasted an hour and a quarter.

Counter-attacking, the Italians were repulsed, military authorities said, with a British loss of 27 officers and men. The Italians, these sources declared, "suffered considerably" and "a number of prisoners were taken."

That day and the next, Italian bombers pounded at the town, and the British forces withdrew from their newly won position, first destroying three damaged tanks and the Italian gasoline dump.

The Italians re-entered Gallabat November 8. Reinforced by two additional battalions, they faced the British position just east of the village.

Advancing again on the morning of November 10, the British forces swept aside Italian pickets by dawn, military men here said, and breakfasted in the recaptured fort.

ITALIAN CLAIMS

ROME (AP)—The Italian high command's communique today said:

"In north Africa, our planes bombed military installations north of the Suez Canal and flying fields at Cairo and Abukir, scoring direct hits on objectives."

"In east Africa, during a clash between our advanced troops and enemy formations in the Kassala zone, the enemy left about 50 dead on the field. Our troops captured machine guns, rifles and munitions. Our losses were very light."

"The enemy air force made a raid on Mettemma, killing three persons and injuring 12. Our fighters shot down a Gloster plane. Two others probably were shot down."

'Democracy Finished' Interview 'Off Record'

NEW YORK (CP)—Joseph P. Kennedy, United States ambassador to Great Britain, commenting on the Boston Globe interview which quoted him as saying "democracy is finished in England," and that "national socialism would be the result," said the conversations on which the article was based was "an off-the-record discussion."

"Many statements in the article... create a different impression entirely than I would want to set forth," Kennedy said. "Many of them were inaccurate. I assumed the entire conversation had been conducted on the basis of my original statement—that it was an off-the-record discussion."

In Boston, the Globe replied it "regrets that Ambassador Kennedy takes exception to publication of the interview in question," and said further: "It was Mr. Lyons' (Louis M. Lyons, Globe reporter) understanding that he was at liberty to use any of the remarks in their long interview in Boston, except for those which Mr. Kennedy specified as 'off the record,' and these, of course, were not touched upon in the published interview."

BOSTON REPORT

The Boston Globe's copyright story quotes Mr. Kennedy as saying the United States in self-interest should pursue a policy of "aiding Britain—as far as we can."

DIFFERENT WORLD

"People call me a pessimist," the Globe quoted Kennedy. "I say 'what is there to be gay about?' Democracy is all gone." The ambassador was asked, "You mean in England or this country, too?" and was quoted by the Globe as replying:

"Well, I don't know. If we get into war it will be in this country, too. A bureaucracy would take over right off. Everything we hold dear would be gone. They tell me that after 1918 we got it all back again. But this is different. There's a different pattern in the world."

"Well, what does it mean to have (British) Labor men now at the centre of government?" Kennedy was asked.

"It means national socialism is coming out of it," the Globe quoted Kennedy as replying, and adding:

"Democracy is finished in England. It may be here. Because it comes to a question of feeding people. It's all an economic question. I told the President in the White House last Sunday, 'Don't send me 50 admirals and generals. Send me a dozen real economists.'"

"It's the loss of our foreign trade that's going to threaten to change our form of government. We haven't felt the pinch of it yet. It's ahead of us."

GOOD INSURANCE

"Whatever we give England, we shouldn't think of getting it back. It's insurance."

The paper quoted Kennedy as saying that if the war spreads to Canada "we're sucked in on that, and the Monroe Doctrine and all."

"The thing is, what we do with the next six months," he added. "It would be fatal to let it go by without making the most of every working day for defence. We aren't doing the maximum now. We've got to. We've got to realize it. We've got to educate America to the need for defence. East, too."

The ambassador was asked, the paper said, "If Hitler wins the war, do you believe we couldn't trade with Europe?" and Kennedy was quoted as replying:

"That's nonsensical. But the thing, now, is: aid England as far as we can; that's our game."

Fierce Storms Take 88 Lives

NEW YORK (AP)—Searching parties scanned the cold waters of Lake Michigan and frozen marshlands in the Great Lakes region today for additional victims of the violent storm that brought death and destruction to the middle west and frigid weather to the United States and parts of Canada.

Eighty-eight persons, including two score sailors and duck hunters, were known to have perished. Many others were missing and scant hope remained they would be found alive.

Two freighters were believed to have foundered in Lake Michigan with all hands. Five vessels were reported aground.

Twenty-six duck hunters drowned or died in the marshlands during the fierce storm. One Wisconsin hunter died in his skiff while two other hunters sat in their boat 30 feet away, powerless to help because their craft was frozen fast in the lake ice.

ROADS REOPENED

WINNIPEG (CP)—Transportation systems resumed regular schedules in Manitoba today as a two-day gale abated and snow-blocked roads were reopened.

No serious accidents were reported in the prairie provinces as a result of the storm, although train, bus and airline schedules were disrupted and communications impaired by a gale that reached a velocity of 53 miles an hour at its height.

BREMEN SUNK?

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Unconfirmed private reports, one of which was received by the Danish-Norwegian newspaper Brien, said that the Bremen, Germany's greatest merchant ship, was sunk several weeks ago off the Danish coast.

A Danish family here received a letter from relatives in Denmark saying the 49,864-ton Bremen was sunk in the Kattegat four miles north of Sjælland, one of Denmark's larger islands.

The letter said the Bremen had been lying there several weeks and that Danes along the coast thought it had been struck by a British torpedo. It added that many German troops on the ship had been drowned.

The writer said the Bremen's superstructure was above water, and that excursion trips to the ship were available for the equivalent of 25 cents. Apparently the Bremen was run upon a reef before being abandoned, said the letter.

Molotoff, Hitler Extend Talks

BERLIN (AP)—Soviet Premier — Foreign Commissar Vyacheslav Molotoff held his second political conference with Hitler following a luncheon today.

Foreign Minister Von Ribbentrop, with the Soviet ambassador, Alexander Schkharzoff, the Soviet vice-minister of foreign affairs, V. G. Dekanosoff, at his side, faced Hitler and Molotoff across the table.

Field Marshal Wilhelm Keitel, chief of the German forces, Reichsmarshal Hermann Goering, Robert Ley, leader of the Labor Front, and Baron Friedrich von der Schulenburg, ambassador to Russia, were among the Germans present.

Informed quarters later said much of the four hours of the conversations was devoted to "negotiations."

Molotoff had spent the morning in conferences with Goering and the deputy Nazi party leader, Rudolf Hess.

Molotoff and Hitler talk through an interpreter, as neither speaks the other's language.

Tonight, the Russian statesman and his staff will be hosts to the Nazi leaders at a banquet, returning the honors accorded to them last night by the Nazis at a state dinner.

Informed sources said it was believed the conferences were aimed at developing a long-range program of German-Russian co-operation. Informants declared both German and Russian speakers at the dinner given Molotoff last night emphasized the friendly nature of the relations between the two nations.

Dare Italians Spare Submarines?

ROME (AP)—Virginia Gayda, editor of the authoritative Fascist newspaper Il Giornale d'Italia, asserted today Germany and Italy had decided to pool their submarine forces for a concerted attack on British shipping in the north Atlantic.

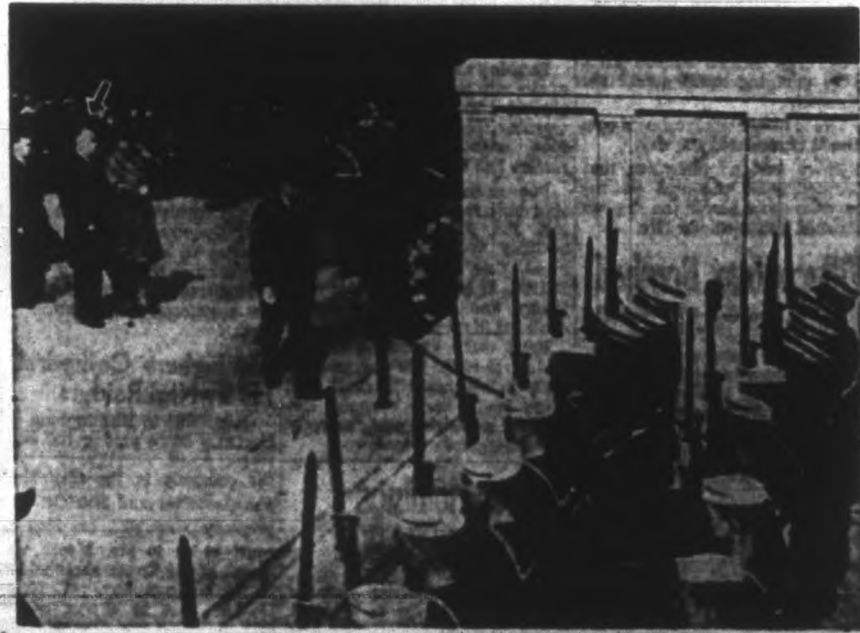

Gayda said the submarine forces of the Axis powers have hitherto operated in different zones of action, the Italians occupying themselves generally with the central Atlantic. Now, he said, they would be grouped together to attack the lanes over which the heaviest British shipping moves.

Mackenzie King Speaks

Canada-U.S. Defence To Be Permanent

OTTAWA (CP) — The link forged by the Canada-United States defence agreement of last August "is no temporary ally," Prime Minister Mackenzie King declared in the Commons.

"In reality," he said, "the agreement marks the full blossoming of a long association in harmony between the people of Canada and the people of the United States to which I hope and believe the President and I have also in some measure contributed."

"It was not formed by nations whose common tie is a mutual desire for the destruction of their neighbors. It is part of the enduring foundation of a new world order, based on friendship and goodwill."

Canada Seen As Chief Link

"In the furtherance of this new world order, Canada, in liaison between the British Commonwealth and the United States, is fulfilling a manifest destiny."

Speaking of British-Canadian-United States co-operation from the point of view of the whole British Commonwealth, he said that "in ultimate importance, it far surpasses the formation of the Triple Axis"—the accord between Germany, Italy and Japan.

As he spoke in the Throne Speech last night, Mr. King also reiterated Canada's war aims and told of the government's determination to throw all Dominion's resources into the fight for victory.

Several Talks Before Agreement

The Ogdensburg agreement, he said, was "the outcome of several conversations between the President and myself."

"It has seemed to me that I should reserve for Parliament such statement as it might be advisable to make with reference to those conversations which, in their nature, necessarily were of a highly confidential character. I might say I have received the President's permission to refer to them publicly."

"The first conversation was on the occasion of a visit I paid the President at the White House as long ago as March, 1937. At that time, the discussion had reference to the position of the Pacific as well as on the Atlantic coasts. It was then agreed that, at some time in the future, meetings might be arranged between the staff officers of both countries to discuss problems of common defence."

Recalls Visit Of Roosevelt Here

"On September 30 of that year, the President paid a visit to Victoria, B.C., crossing on a United States destroyer from Seattle. This visit led to arrangements for talks between staff officers regarding Pacific coast problems, which took place in Washington in January, 1938."

"I think I may say that on every occasion I have visited the President on his visits to Canada, matters pertaining to the defence of this continent have been a subject of conversation between us."

"In the summer of 1939, the President paid a visit to Canadian waters off the Atlantic coast. He subsequently told me that this visit, like his similar visit to Victoria two years earlier, had been occasioned by his concern with the problem of coastal defence."

"This is perhaps an appropriate place for me to say that, from the beginning, and at the time of each conversation, the President made it perfectly clear that his primary interest in the subject was the defence of the United States."

"I was equally frank in making it clear that my concern was the effective defence of Canada, and the defence of the British Commonwealth of Nations as a whole."

Continent Defence Great Objective

"If one thing above another became increasingly evident in the course of our conversations, it was that our respective countries had a common interest in the matter of the defence of this continent. Since this was the case, everything pointed to the wisdom of planning carefully in advance for whatever contingency might arise."

"I should also like to say the British government was kept duly informed of what was taking place."

"The Canadian government likewise was kept informed of the defence matters directly discussed between the British government and the United States. The discussions naturally included questions pertaining to the leasing of air and naval bases on the Atlantic.

Friendship Strengthens British Empire Bonds

"Throughout by public life I have consistently maintained the view that the friendliest relations between Canada and the United States, far from weakening the bonds between the nations of the British Commonwealth, would, at all times, prove a source of strength."

All Resources In War Effort

As to Canada's total war effort, Mr. King said the only limits the government proposed "are those imposed by the extent of our resources, human and material, and by our capacity for sacrifice."

He declared his faith in the ultimate victory of British arms, but the road to victory would be longer, harder and more terrible than any of us realize," he said.

Mr. King spoke of "our" war aims, of if the term seems preferable, our peace aims."

"Personally I do not see that any conflict need arise between our war aims and our peace aims. If Nazi Germany is not defeated there will be little of freedom, truth and justice left in this world."

"If, on the other hand, we are in earnest in our desire to have freedom, truth and justice prevail in all human relations, we should be prepared to fight as men have never fought before."

Mr. King said the policy of Canada from the start of the war had been to make Canada as strong as possible to maintain her own defence, and to give all possible aid to Britain. That continued to be the policy.

War Contracts Grow to $443,000,000

War contracts to the account of Canada amounted to $443,000,000 last November 4, the Prime Minister said. Of this amount $7 per cent had been placed in Canada, 8 per cent in the United Kingdom and 5 per cent in the United States.

United Kingdom orders in Canada amounted to $134,000,000, and capital expenditures $81,000,000. Canada had also made capital expenditures in the form of plant construction and extension amounting to $225,000,000.

Mr. King criticised remarks made by Conservative House Leader Hanson, who had spoken before the Prime Minister.

He referred to Mr. Hanson's comment that the Throne Speech proroguing Parliament last week contained the first instance in which the government had placed the defence of Britain before the defence of Canada in references to Canada's war effort.

Beside Britain Till Victory Comes

The Prime Minister said the government was on record from the first day of war as ready to "fight by the side of Britain against aggression."

"At every imperial conference he had attended, Mr. King said, a primary policy enunciated from the Commonwealth nations was that they must take steps for defence then to assist the Mother Country. That was the policy adopted by Canada and the policy that would be followed."

Mr. King cautioned against careless talking. "We cannot be too careful of what we say about our countries," he said. "We cannot be too careful of what we say about Japan."

It may sound very brave to say things here, but they do not help," Mr. King referred to the motion moved by Mr. Hanson at the end of his speech, voicing the regret of the Commons at the government's creation of a "false sense of security" regarding the war effort.

Mr. King said he failed to understand where Mr. Hanson had got the idea the government was trying to "soothe" the people into a sense of false security. If the government had tried to do anything, it was to bring home to the people the gravity of the situation.

Call From Vichy

VICHY (AP)—The Vichy government appealed today to all followers of Gen. Charles de Gaulle to "return to their normal places in the fatherland and receive the clemency" of Premier Petain.

This clemency, however, a communique said, will not be extended to native colonials who have joined the Free French de Gaulle movement. "Betraying their duties as soldiers and citizens,"

Conservative Leader Speaks

Hanson Urges Canada Request Bases in Eire

OTTAWA (CP) — The Canadian government should make a personal appeal to Premier Eamon de Valera of Eire to "lease to Canada for the duration of the war two ports on the west coast of Eire for use as Empire naval stations," Conservative House Leader Hanson said in the House of Commons.

He also suggested Canada should approach Mr. de Valera with a proposal that Eire lease to Canada certain strategic air-ports in the south and west of Eire for use as Empire air stations.

"I do not know if such a proposal would be acceptable, but I do know that Canada should make the attempt," Mr. Hanson said in speaking yesterday in the debate on the throne speech.

"I do not think there is anything impracticable about the suggestion. It is important, it is pressing, and every avenue for its adoption should be explored in the common interests of all concerned."

Wants Co-operation Of United States

"May I make the further suggestion that if in approaching Mr. de Valera Canada finds no position, it should enlist, and I have no doubt would receive, the warm and sympathetic co-operation of the government of the United States in such an effort."

The Conservative leader said Mr. de Valera's failure to co-operate with the British governments, and "his adoption of an extreme position of neutrality" in the war "constitutes a serious problem in respect of the success of the British arms, and in the United States in such an effort."

Coldwell Speaks

C.C.F. Leader Sees Control by Capital Grow

OTTAWA (CP) — Under the policies being applied by the Munitions and Supply Department, Canada is being "delivered more completely into the hands of those who already monopolize our economic life," M. J. Coldwell, C.C.F. Rosetown-Biggar, Sask., said as he opened his speech in the Throne Speech debate in the Commons.

A year ago, he said, the C.C.F. declared Canada's most effective contribution to the war was through the "national organization for the supplying of economic aid without profit to ourselves." The group still believed that was the major contribution Canada could make.

Apart from other considerations, the country had no right to ask men to "surrender themselves" for armed service unless industry and financial institutions were asked to place themselves at the disposal of the country on the same basis.

PLANT ADDITIONS

"This has not been done," he said. On the contrary, large sums of money are being spent by the government on the enlargement of privately-owned plants and on the erection of new plants which are to be owned by the government but operated by private corporations," he said.

He cited the case of a plant being located in Winnipeg being switched from a location near the Canadian National Railways tracks, where there were other facilities, to a location where the Canadian Pacific Railway might serve it, although the change meant a new water main costing more than $250,000.

There were doubtless other examples, he said, where large companies were being "encouraged to dig in now, so that when the war ends, Canada will be thoroughly controlled by monopolistic finance and industry."

"I say it is the duty of this Parliament to change the trends and to relieve those who are responsible, from any further control of war effort. Otherwise the Canadian people will have lost the war on the home front."

ATTACKS CBC

Some corporations were following labor policies which would bring them into conflict with their employees, he said. A government corporation, the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation, had forbidden its employees to organize, although the Prime Minister had repudiated the attempt of CBC's general manager to speak in the name of the government in such a regulation.

Mr. Coldwell charged opposition members of Parliament were never invited to participate in radio discussions of public issues. "That is reserved for members of the government and for officials who praise them," he said. "Indeed, radio stations in some parts refuse to allow representatives of organized labor to use their facilities, even when manuscripts have been passed by the Dominion censor."

The sooner there was a parliamentary investigation of CBC the better. Canada could not afford incompetence or unreliability in the management of one of its most important war and post-war instruments.

Mr. Coldwell asked what was Canada's relationship to the Vichy government. It could no longer be regarded as a free government representing the will of the French people. Its decrees were obviously dictated by its Nazi masters. This raised the question of the position of the French embassy in Ottawa. Should the representatives of a pro-Fascist government under control of Hitler and Mussolini enjoy the privileges of diplomatic immunity?

Japs Agree on What To Do in China

TOYKO (AP)—Domei (Japanese News Agency) reported today that army, navy, and cabinet leaders had conferred for two hours with Emperor Hirohito and reached "complete agreement" regarding the Japanese program in China.

Among those who attended the conference, Domei said, were Premier Prince Fumimaro Konoye, Foreign Minister Yosuke Matsuoka, the ministers of war, navy and finance and the chiefs of the army and navy.

ment had deliberately tried to create the impression that all was well with the national war effort, when those aware of the situation were "alarmed and anxious," he proposed the government set up two special committees to investigate and report to the House.

"Progress reports in the form of speeches by ministers in the House are not good enough," he claimed. "You can never elicit the naked facts in that manner." Cross-examination was necessary.

Longer Training Of Troops Urged

While he commended the training being given young Canadians under the 30-day compulsory military training plan, Mr. Hanson urged increasing the training period to four months at least.

The "failure" of the second war loan—only subscribed in three weeks under pressure—was due in part to lack of war fervor, popular objection to what was considered gross extravagance in war expenditure, a feeling that this is a "Liberal war" and the "tremendously heavy and oppressive taxation" imposed immediately, he said.

"We are taxing the well-disposed to the limit. There is no equality of sacrifice in the 1940 taxation," he claimed.

Offers Motion For House Vote

Mr. Hanson topped off his 2 1/2-hour barrage against the government's war record by moving a motion declaring the "regret" of the House of Commons at the government's creation of a "false sense of security" regarding the war effort.

The motion also voices regret at the fact that "no effective action" to alleviate the present serious plight of Canadian agriculture was proposed by the government in the Speech from the Throne.

Benito the Fake

SMALL WONDER MR. CHURCHILL EN- tered the House of Commons this afternoon "all smiles" to bring to the "immediate notice" of the assembly a "glorious episode"—
a determined and highly successful attack on the Italian navy "which reflects the greatest honor on the fleet air arm" and affects "decisively the balance of naval power in the Mediterranean." As a result of this encounter, Mussolini's much-vaunted navy has been damaged in varying degrees of seriousness to the extent of half its large and modern battleship strength, with two cruisers and two fleet auxiliary vessels probably out of commission for many months to come.
One battleship of the Littorio class—two of the type were recently sent to sea and both displace 35,000 tons of last-world fighting quality—is described in the British communique as "badly down at the stern."

These units of the Duce's navy were discovered "smuggling behind their shore defences in their main base at Taranto" far back inside the heel of the Italian boot. They formed the most imposing part of the fleet with which Mussolini intended to dominate the Mediterranean while—as he dramatically exclaimed before he struck his neighbor in the last June—his magnificent and invincible air force would be "blowing enemy ships
out of the water and blasting naval bases to bits." This was an excellent propaganda program for propaganda purposes: it gave docile and obedient editors manifold opportunities to draw on their imaginations. It was part of the glowing description of how the new Roman Empire would gradually unfold
before a startled world as the mighty axis
—particularly its junior partner—rolled back British might and authority between Gibratar and the Suez Canal.

None better than Mr. Churchill knows how difficult is the task ahead, what disappointments and perhaps disillusionments
may have to be endured before the two principal European gangsters have been effectively handcuffed and muzzled, but all the decent world will smile with him as he contemplates this magnificent feat of the air arm of the Royal Navy. It has exposed the fake Caesar again; little Greece has made him look a fool in the eyes of even his allies
in crime, and the laughing stock of the remaining Balkan states still neutral. And the best propagandist Gayda can say in explanation of what is amiss across the Straits of Otranto is that Italy began her invasion of the Kingdom of the Hellenes without adequate preparation; well may it be suggested he "tell it to the marines." Nor have we heard the last of those ships which the British fliers battered; unless we are greatly mistaken it will not be long before they are reduced to a condition that will remove them completely from any prospect of further usefulness in the present conflict. And what is passing through the minds of the leaders of the Italian armies in the Libyan desert?

It would be interesting to know what Adolf Hitler and Vyacheslav Molotov are saying in Berlin today about this latest unveiling of Italy's false front. More interesting still, however, would be Islamic comment. Only a few weeks before Italy entered the war, it was none other than Marshal Balbo—whose death still remains a mystery—who announced in Cairo that the day of "liberation" for the Egyptians was near; Mussolini wanted nothing but the friendship of Islam. "Yes," said Prime Minister Mohamed Mahmud Pasha when Balbo saw him later, "just as he did with Albania, which was the only Mohammedan country in Europe." This and other significant items in Italy's woeing in the Mediterranean, not omitting her gracious presents of various parts of the British Commonwealth to the United States a week or so ago, stand out in stark relief against the "glorious episode" so joyously described by Mr. Churchill in the House of Commons.

Bureaucratic

ON SEPTEMBER 18 LAST A SPECIAL
order-in-council was passed at Ottawa requiring all companies with fiscal years ending on or before June 30, 1940, to file returns for excess profits taxation and pay the required tax by October 31, 1940.
Failure to file and pay up would incur the usual penalties and interest charges imposed upon late income-tax payers.

Six weeks between September 18 and October 31 seems rather short notice for auditors and company officials to compile all their returns. However, it turns out to be worse than that. After passing the order, Ottawa did not bother to notify companies and auditors of what it had done. The first notice of the order from C. Fraser Elliott, Commissioner of Income Tax, came through the mails from Ottawa this last week-end. That is, more than a week after the date on which the companies are required to file and pay.
Companies liable to excess profits tax have thus been put in default and under penalty
before they were notified of the requirement to file and pay.

Such procedure at Ottawa smacks of carelessness and lack of organization in the department concerned. Perhaps, also, it smacks of bureaucratic indifference which should not be tolerated—not even in wartime.

De Valera Learns Nothing

NORTHERN IRELAND'S PRIME MIN- ister, Viscount Craigavon, has reminded the people of Great Britain that he warned
the British government when it negotiated
the Anglo-Irish pact two years ago that it would rue the day when it surrendered important naval bases to Eire. He was not alone in his attitude toward this and some other aspects of the economic and political agreement which Mr. Chamberlain and Mr.
de Valera negotiated to terminate the situation produced by the strife over the discontinuance of land annuity payments. Mr.
Churchill was an outspoken critic and found room in his general collection of warnings between 1936 and 1939 for a spirited reference to what now is a contributing factor to the gravity of the U-boat menace. And the Prime Minister did not exaggerate when he told the House of Commons last week
that inability to use the west and south coasts of Ireland for the refueling of naval fleetillas "imposed a most heavy and grievous burden, and one which should never have been placed upon our shoulders, broad though they may be."

Unfortunately, the tragic sequence of events has converted into one more serious problem an act of policy which seemed to be just and in accordance with the British conception of the Commonwealth's essential evolutionary processes in special regard to the former Irish Free State—an act, moreover, which did attain the success which at the time seemed paramount. But Mr. de Valera evidently is adamant on the point to which Mr. Churchill alluded; he intends to preserve his part of Ireland's neutrality. He has learned nothing from the fate which has overtaken other states that have pursued a similar course, even as the vicious flames
of brutal aggression licked their frontiers.
Naturally the Germans are pleased: "de Valera statement needs no amplification
from us," they say. But if ever the day should come when Nazi legions are able to land in Eire, either after domination of Britain or by other means, the philosophy of the doctrinaire Prime Minister would suffer a rude awakening. Perhaps he will change his mind while he has the opportunity to add to his own and his country's prestige—and safety. It may even be necessary for the Royal Navy to force the issue—
also to protect Mr. de Valera.

These Guns More Than Metal

GERMAN GUNS CAPTURED BY CANA- dians during the 1914-18 war and placed in this city as war trophies have been removed from their public locations and are now reported in a junk yard with piles of scrap iron. It is to be expected that every returned soldier organization here will at once want to know who ordered these war trophies removed and why.

At the end of the Great War, captured guns were distributed by the federal authorities among the communities of Canada. The understanding was that each community was to hold such trophies in trust for the present and future generations as reminders of the sacrifices and the courage of the men who went overseas in 1914-18. We do not believe that public opinion will countenance any local authority callously junking these trophies overnight.

If there is need in Canada for scrap iron
for war purposes, the federal authorities
could make an appeal, calling in the war
trophies across the Dominion. So far there has been no such appeal. There seems to be no shortage of scrap iron in this country.
In fact, up until recently we seem to have had so much of it that we were working overtime shipping it to Japan to help her to arm.

Collapse of the $6,000,000 suspension bridge at Tacoma has recalled the first bridge disaster on the north Pacific coast.
It occurred here in Victoria on May 26, 1896,
when a street car crashed through the high centre span of the old Point Ellice Bridge.
Sixty-five persons, part of a holiday crowd,
on their way to celebrations at Esquimalt, were carried to their death. Because the bridge was known to be weak, the number of persons permitted to ride across in a street car was reduced. The theory being that the passenger-weight reduction would be sufficient to make it safe. The surplus passengers had to get out and walk across,
boarding the car at the end of the bridge.
However, they always walked alongside the slowly-moving car.

EXPERIMENT WORTH WATCHING

From Toronto Globe and Mail
Now that Premier Bracken's "wartime nonpartisan administration" has taken form, its manner of functioning deserves close attention. It is not impossible that something revolutionary in provincial government has been started, that its effects may extend even further than provincial boundaries.

It is a test for the electors, of course, as well as the elected. Besides Liberal-Progressives and Conservatives the new ministry represents the Socialist C.C.F. Party and Social Credit, with monetary reorganization as its chief aim. To attain popular unity nonsensicalities evidently will have to be dropped from the agenda. Will the followers agree if the leaders do on what is not essential? Manitoba is probably more fortunate than other provinces in controlling the vicious patronage system, which is the main stumbling-block to nonpartisan government. But, if the experiment raises no serious outcry from the neighborhood of party troughs, there will be reason to believe this form of racket is not something to be endured forever by a suffering public.

Obviously the party system does not call for blanket condemnation. It is the best yet devised for the expression of a democratic choice at election time. The evils have crept in by overworking it, and especially by making the government its tool.

FACT BLINDNESS

WHAT OF THE FACT-BLINDNESS WE
ourselves have witnessed these last few years? The plan of attack on Norway dated back to the Great War of 1914 and everybody in Scandinavia knew about it.
But when Norway was invaded, both the Allies and the Norwegians seemed completely surprised. They had been looking at such a menace for more than 20 years, but they had never "taken it in," to use a most graphic description. They had just never taken it in.

After that, the neutral nations of Europe might have realized that the highwaymen in Berlin meant business. I knew about the planned invasion—details and all—of the Netherlands two weeks before it happened.
I have no private lines of information. There was nothing mysterious about it. Most newspapermen in New York knew about it.
I cabled friends in Holland—told them to come to America—we would be glad to have them stay with us—for they were cheerful Nazi-haters and would hardly survive having to live under the Nazi yoke. They laughed at my suggestion.

I got letters written the night before the invasion. Those letters said, "Don't be foolish. We are safer over here than you are in America, where there may be a Bolshevik revolution at any moment. You read the headlines in your sensational American press. There is nothing to the story about a German invasion for Herr Hitler has given us his word of honor that he will do nothing against us."

And—mind you—these were bright people, people who knew their world, who had long since realized that the solemn oath of Adolf Hitler, the specialist in perjury, was worth about as much as a share in the Panama Canal of poor old de Lesseps. But they were fact-blind. Their eyes must have seen the danger that was threatening them,
but somehow or other what their eyes saw failed to register itself upon their brains—
upon their consciousness, and they were destroyed because of their blindness to the existing facts.

UNIVERSAL

HOWEVER, LET US NOT blame them too easily. It is true that from our point of view, they were pretty dumb. But in the first place, future generations may come to the conclusion that just now we are just as unwilling to recognize facts as the people in Europe, whose blindness we deplore. And all of history is there to show us that fact-blindness is an affliction which has been practically universal ever since the beginning of time.

After all, we cannot exactly accuse the contemporaries of Pericles of having been lacking in intelligence. Most of the thoughts
we think today, most of the science we have,
are but a continuation of the thoughts and the science of the days of Pericles. And it was then that the science of politics was discovered, of politics which according to Aristotle was the science which endeavored to discover what was good for organized society.

But that magnificent fabric of human intelligence came sadly to an end—an end
which probably could have been avoided—
because no one apparently was able to draw the logical conclusions from an endless number of plainly visible facts—all of which warned the Greeks in unmistakable terms:
"Cease quarrelling among each other, unite your forces or you will all of you perish at the hands of your mighty Macedonian neighbor."

—HENDRIK WILLEM VAN LOON

GEMS OF THOUGHT—GENTILITY

"Gentility is the ability to ignore in others
those faults or blemishes we will not tolerate in ourselves."—Anon.

"Who hath not learned that when alone
he has his own thoughts to guard, and when struggling with mankind his temper, and in society his tongue?"—Mary Baker Eddy.

"We love ourselves notwithstanding our faults, and we ought to love our friends in like manner."—Cyrus.

"Unless you bear with the faults of a friend, you betray your own."—Publius Syrus.

"There is no outward sign of true courtesy that does not rest on a deep moral foundation."—Goethe.

SINGULARITY

Sagittarius, in the London New Statesman.
The Nazi evil is our datum,
Is downfall our desideratum,
Its extirpation our agendum,
Without erratum or addendum,
"Make victory our propagandum."
And this our only memorandum.

Often the less there is to justify a traditional custom, the harder it is to get rid of it.—Mark Twain.

Nothing is so impudent as success, except perhaps, the successful.—J. B. Planche.

Charlie Chaplin visited Sing Sing the other day. He met many of the prisoners and got into a hot political debate with one of them. The convict concluded by saying that the re-election of FDR "will ruin this country!"

The bitter critic of Mr. Roosevelt was the former president of the New York Stock Exchange, Richard Whitney.

Initiative is doing the right thing without being told.—Hubbard.

Parallel Thoughts

Moreover ye shall take no satisfaction
for the life of a murderer, which is death
of death; but he shall be surely put to death.
—Numbers 35:31.

By taking revenge, a man is but even with his enemy; but in passing over it, he is superior.—Bacon.

TIME TO ACT

I REGARD as the most encouraging thing that could happen in this whole war would be a definite showdown between the United States and Japan. If it came to fighting I believe that the United States fleet would either sweep the seas of the Japanese navy within a very few weeks or else confine it to port. Perhaps more accurately we should say, "the Allied Navy," for, in the event of war in the Pacific between United States and Japan, the former would have the help of some of the finest British fighting ships afloat. She would also have a force which has been largely forgotten by the world, namely, that in the Dutch East Indies. This consists of four battlecruisers, 12
destroyers, 18 submarines, 100 torpedo boats and 400 of the most modern fighting planes in all the world.

The Pacific stage is therefore set extremely favorably from the point of view of American naval strategists. By 1942 this whole picture will have changed because by then Japan will have launched two more super dreadnaughts which will upset the whole balance of naval power in the Pacific.

For all these reasons, I expect the United States to take her strongest line of foreign policy in the Pacific, and it is not beyond the limit of possibility that, instead of that line resulting in war, it will result in peace. For the whole of past history indicates that Japan sees the point
very quickly when she is up against superior force in the hands of leaders who are resolute enough to use it.

LAND OR WATER

In the world today, the other two most interesting situations are those between Germany and Britain on the one hand, and Germany and the Soviet on the other.

What we are about to have tested out are the ideas of Gen.
Haushofer, one of Hitler's military theorists, who has devised a

WAR TROPHIES AND SCRAP IRON

To the Editor:—May we, the veterans of the Great War, be informed, please, if there has been a request from the Munitions Supply Board, or any other proper authority at Ottawa, for the collection of scrap iron, or does this matter still remain entirely at the initiative of, and in the hands
of, junk dealers for profit?

If the latter is the fact, and we suspect that it is, then who is the junk dealer (of shall we call it a subversive element) who has proposed that our trophies of the Great War be consigned to the junk yard?

I saw in last Friday's Times that our City Council had approved of such sacrilege, and I notice that one gun at least has already, within the past few days, disappeared from the north end of the Causeway.

If a request comes from the proper authorities for the collection of these trophies for war purposes, then we would be the last to object, but until such request comes, we feel that these old guns must remain as a sacred trust imposed upon the city. We believe that they are not the property of the city to discard at the whim of any City Council so dense as to fail to understand their inspirational value.

We believe that the demand for scrap iron either in Canada or the United States is not by any means intense, although we know it is so in England. Yet even there, we have not yet heard that the old "Victory," Nelson's flagship, has been burnt for the many tons of copper in her.
COLONEL W. J. H. HOLMES, 1286 Roslyn Road.

CATS VS. BIRDS

To the Editor:—As a lover of birds, I read with great interest
Mr. John Irvine's letter of November 8. I have tried for years to encourage birds in my garden
with a certain amount of success. The more birds I can get to come my way, the less insect life I find. Now and again crops up the murderer of bird life, but being provided with a properly constructed catch-em-alive cat
trap, I find my hobby of encouraging birds is not such a discouraging task.

The trap I use can be constructed by any handy boy, and the officer in charge of the dog and cat catching department will call, take away and put to by-bye the offending cat free of charge. If people are pestered with mice in the house, efficient mouse traps can be purchased at two for 5¢.

Better English

By D. C. WILLIAMS

1. What is wrong with this sentence? "This fact is known universally by all."
2. What is the correct pronunciation of "attache"?
3. Which one of these words is misspelled? Matrimony, matress, massacre.
4. What does the word "amicable" mean?
5. What is a word beginning with inn that means "to make changes"?

Answers

1. Omit by all. What is known universally is known by all.
2. Pronounce at-a-sha, first a as in at, second a as in ask unstressed,
third a as in shade, principal accent on last syllable. 3. Matress.
4. Friendly. (Pronounce first syllable am.) "An amicable adjustment was effected." 5. Innovate.

British stupidity exasperates
the German high command. Here the so-called English can't understand that invasion ports are ports to start an invasion out of,
not into.

Are You Nervous And All On Edge?

People suffering from loss of appetite and rundown condition due to nerve strain, often need a nerve food and general tonic. Oxyoro Lecithin with Vitamin B (1) helps rebuild nerve tissue. It is especially beneficial for convalescents. By increasing the supply of Vitamin B (1) to the system, appetite is improved and the system built up to normal. $1.00 at all Cunningham Drug Stores and other drug stores.

Chapter Plan Shower To Fill Ditty Bags

Plans for a shower of chocolates and cigarettes to place in 12 ditty bags which the Dr. O. M. Jones Chapter, I.O.D.E., is making were discussed at the meeting of the chapter held in the headquarters last evening. Mrs. William Ellis, the regent, in the chair.

The sum of $15 was voted for educational work. Miss Simpson reported a layette given to a patient in the Jubilee Hospital. Plans were made for a rummage sale on December 7 on Pandora Avenue. Calendars will be sent to schools and to a member in Long Beach, Cal. The war convener reported a large amount of work turned in.

Nominations for secretary will be received at the December meeting. The chapter's next knitting meeting will be held tomorrow at the home of Mrs. Davis, 32 Marlborough Avenue, at 2 p.m. Members were asked for odd balls of wool for the children of Metchison School. Mrs. Griffiths won the prize for selling the greatest number of scrip books, Mrs. Hume winning second prize. Mrs. Mathison and Mrs. George Warren were welcomed as new members. The chapter stood in silent tribute to the men who lost their lives in H.M.C.S. Margaree.

WEDDINGS

BUNTON-HOLMES

Rev. Frederic Pike officiated at the ceremony at St. Luke's Church, Cedar Hill, on Saturday last at 3 p.m., which united in marriage Joan, only daughter of Mrs. Holmes, Cadboro Bay, and the late Mr. J. A. Holmes, Pine Lake, Alta., and Mr. John (Jack) Bunton, youngest son of Mr. W. J. Bunton and the late Mrs. Bunton, Leamans, Sask.

The bride, who was given away by her brother, wore a pebble-blue afternoon dress, with a small hat to match, and a corsage bouquet of gardenias. Miss Collette Brennan, Mill Bay, was bridesmaid and was dressed in grey with black accessories, and a corsage bouquet of pink carnations. Mr. Charley Thompson, Duncan, supported the groom, and Mr. Brian Burke acted as usher.

A reception was held at Lingerfield's Tea-rooms, Cadboro Bay, immediately after the wedding ceremony, with approximately 50 friends and relatives attending. The hall had been beautifully decorated with green foliage and bronze chrysanthemums by the bride's mother, assisted by friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Bunton left on Sunday morning for a short trip up-island. Upon their return they will take up residence at Cadboro Bay.

ROYAL OAK DANCE

The Royal Oak Women's Institute will stage an old-time dance in the Community Hall on Friday evening, November 15, not Saturday as previously announced, with Scafe's old-time orchestra in attendance. The proceeds will be used to buy a radio to send to men of the 1st Canadian Scottish regiment, who are on lonely outpost duty, an appeal having been made recently for such a gift.

Drastic

The most drastic prohibition law in the world today is in effect in Afghanistan, where anyone caught with liquor on his person or property can be sent to prison for six years without trial.

Mr. and Mrs. Victor D. Young, who were married recently at St. Paul's Presbyterian Church. The bride was the former Isabelle Sloan.

Birthmark Showed Way to Success

NEW YORK — Lydia O'Leary was born with a scarlet birthmark, which almost covered the left side of her face. In high school years she hid in dark corners till everybody else had gone to class and no one could stare at her as she scuttled through the halls.

After she was graduated, weeks of trudging New York streets failed to yield the job she sought as department store stylist. Finally, one personnel manager told her the truth: "We can't hire you because of your face."

The confidence she had built up crashed after that and Lydia O'Leary hid in her room, painting bridge prizes and table decorations for her living. Then one day she dropped her brush on an iris design, blotched it with dark paint and had to cover it with light paint. The thought struck her: "I can cover my birthmark!"

Using the knowledge of chemistry and art which she had gleaned from her school courses, she experimented feverishly for months and emerged with a cream which coats her mark and which, she says, doesn't crack or rub off. She made a waterproof version for swimming.

Later, she had the satisfaction of getting—and keeping—a job in the same department store which had turned her down. Now she manufactures the cream in New York and makes her living as a result of her blemish.

For Quick Cough Relief, Try This Home Mixture

Splendid Results. Saves Money. Easily Mixed.

You'll be surprised how quickly and easily you can overcome a bad winter cough, when you try this well known remedy. It gives you four times as much cough medicine for your money and yet it's so pleasant to take, you'll want to keep it for real relief.

Make a syrup by stirring 3 cups of granulated sugar and one cup of water a few minutes, until dissolved. No cooking needed—it's so trouble at all. Then put 2½ ounces of Peen (obtained from any drugist) into a 16 oz. bottle.

Add your syrup and you have 16 ounces of medicine that will surprise you by its quick action. It never again, lasts a family a long time, and tastes like children love it.

This home mixture takes right hold of a severe cough. For real results, you'll say it's splendid. It loosens the phlegm, soothes the irritated membranes, and quickly eases soreness and difficult breathing.

Peen is a compound containing Norway Pine and palatable gualacol, in concentrated form, well known for its soothing effect on throat membranes. Money refunded if it doesn't please you.

Smart English Fur

A display of original English fur coats, capes and evening wraps will be shown at the Hudson's Bay store tomorrow, Friday and Saturday.

English actresses with a flare for the new styles in Hollywood took back to England with them modes that English manufacturers improved. English dyers have done things to furs that make them something of a delight to wear as well as a comfort. These alluring models are samples, and they are for sale.

Forty English manufacturers have made these 67 different styles, no two alike, and the coats, capes and evening wraps have been sent out to Canada, and the Hudson's Bay Company have been given the privilege of displaying these attractive garments from Winnipeg and throughout the west.

The Bay will feature these English fur coats in a fashion show on the second floor, and on Friday a complete display will be modelled at 2.30 p.m.

PEACH-HUED ERMINE

The workmanship is in the best traditions of the English fur craftsman, and the finish of each creation is superb. Amongst the grouping are Scotch moleskin, dressed, dyed and designed to make the wearer "look like a million," and selling astonishingly reasonably. Another first choice is a peach-hued Russian ermine evening wrap with fox sleeves. There are new shades in furs that will enrich or augment any woman's wardrobe.

Among the collection is a mink coat made from British-bred mink skins. The shades shown in the Canadian squirrel collection are outstanding, the new important shade being what is called "black coffee." A somewhat lighter color is called "chocolate," and two lovely models in this group are swaggar styles.

Grey Indian lamb, dyed light grey blue, is made up swaggar style with a full back, and is a very fine textured skin. White seal dyed a nice shade of blue, in a light weight yet created to stand rugged wear, has an exceptionally fine appearance.

There are several other outstanding numbers in both Canadian dyed ermine and Russian ermines, the new shades being called Black Tulip and Windsor Brown, the next darkest being cocoa brown, a somewhat lighter shade than the first.

It is hoped that the whole of Great Britain's fur trade industries will be benefited by these fine displays. These splendid originals now on display at the Hudson's Bay store are weapons of war, because they help pay for the essentials of successful warfare by their successful acceptance here in Canada.

rummage sale, which netted $50.57, was read and the contest arranged by the auxiliary was responsible for a further $181.75 for the general funds. The next knitting club tea and musicale will be held at the home of Mrs. J. O. Cameron, 1330 Purcell Place, on November 20.

Native Daughters of B.C., Post No. 3, will meet this evening at 7.45 in the Knights of Columbus Hall, Government Street. It is hoped there will be a good attendance of members as the Grand Factor and Grand Secretary will pay their official visit. The Native Sons of B.C., Post No. 1, will also be entertained. Following the business meeting a social will be held.

The Young Women's Missionary Society of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church met on Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. J. L. W. McLean, 63 Linden Avenue, with the president, Mrs. John Simpson, in the chair. Mrs. C. P. Young of India gave a very interesting talk on her work among the Bhils. Refreshments brought the evening to a close. The next regular meeting will be held on December 3.

Lodge Primrose No. 32, Daughters of England, met in S.O.E. Hall, Friday, worthy President Mrs. Harper presiding. Mrs. Lawson, was present on her official visit; also worthy District Deputy, Mrs. Bridges, and Worthy President, Mrs. Howe, from Princess Alexandra Lodge No. 18, and members. Refreshments were served after the meeting.

A successful sale was held recently under the auspices of St. Mary's evening branch of the W.A. at St. Mary's Hall, Oak Bay. Mrs. Cyril Verables, introduced by the president, Mrs. E. Sheppard, declared the sale open and received a lovely bouquet of flowers from little Jane Ann Kinney. Many attractive articles

Reveal Hidden Beauty of Your Skin With Mercolised Wax Cream

Care of the skin is simple for the alert woman who uses the time-tested world-famous Mercolised Wax Cream. Here you have a cream that gives you cleansing, clearing, softening, smoothing and beautifying properties. Mercolised Wax Cream sheds the outer surface skin, clearing away superficial discolorations and blemishes of external origin. You see then revealed the fresh, clear under-skin—a skin that looks like new. Bring out the hidden beauty of your skin with Mercolised Wax Cream. Beware! Astringent, Rubbing Skin. Use this tingling, antiseptic Sanitone Astringent daily to give your skin a clean, fresh, lively appearance. Dissolve Sanitone in one-half pint witch-hazel and apply to face and neck.

To Start Recruiting For Ambulance Corps Here

Recruiting in Victoria for the British Columbia Automobile Association Women's Ambulance Corps will commence during the latter part of this week. H. F. Bird, secretary-manager of the association and director of the corps, has announced.

An office will be opened in the city in charge of Mrs. Jessie Clegg. She will be assisted by Mrs. E. Macfarlane and Eleanor Robinson and other localities who are interested in doing some kind of war work.

This corps, which has been recruiting in other centres in the province for two months, will be taught the fundamentals of air raid precaution work, ambulance work, field and home nursing, driving and repairing of trucks and cars, map reading, handling of rifles and other firearms and field cooking. A special course in signalling will also be given. The air raid precaution instruction will be given under Major S. M. Moodie. The St. John Ambulance Association will give the ambulance course.

Applicants for the group must be between the ages of 17 and 60, and in a sound physical condition.

HAS BIG ENROLMENT

At the present time the corps has the largest number of recruits of any women's war work organization in the province. Seven hundred have enlisted in Vancouver, 100 in Nanaimo and 75 in New Westminster.

Members of the corps will appear in a very smart uniform. It is navy blue in color instead of the usual khaki, and consists of skirt and tunic, forage cap, silk stockings and black low-heeled shoes. The trimmings are in silver.

shoes. The trimmings are in silver.

All officers will be chosen by proficiency. No special appointments will be made for officers or for noncommissioned ranks.

There is no woman in Canada today who should shirk war work. Mr. Bird stated. "The opportunity to serve their country should be their first thought. This is one way to improve themselves—by taking these classes and thereby being ready and properly trained in case of emergency."

The Women's Auxiliary to the Tuberculous Veterans will meet in the home of Mrs. T. Fulthorpe, 447 Kingston Street, on Thursday at 2.30.

The Red Shield Women's Auxiliary will meet at 7.30 this evening in the Salvation Army Citadel, Broad Street. Tomorrow afternoon at 2.30 the weekly meeting of the Victoria Home League will be held in the citadel and Rev. T. H. McAllister will be the guest speaker.

Britannia Lodge, No. 216, L.O.B.A., met recently, W.M. Mrs. L. Fee presiding, assisted by D.M. Mrs. C. Leask. There will be a silver tea at the home of Mrs. Miller, 2127 Chambers Street, on Thursday. A special meeting and drill practice is called for Friday at 2.

Victoria Truth Centre Ladies' Club met recently and completed plans for a silver tea on Thursday. A musical program has been arranged by Mrs. C. C. Warn and there will be the usual stall of home cooking and also a stall of useful articles suitable for Christmas gifts.

The Women's Auxiliary to the Air Services met yesterday afternoon at the Y.M.C.A., when Dr. Olga Jardine, president of the board of directors of the Y.W.C.A., addressed the members of hostess houses across Canada, explaining the work that is being done and giving an account of the Y.W.C.A.'s wartime program. ## Minister Issues Challenge

B.C. Farm Policies Warmly Defended

Hon. Dr. K. C. MacDonald, Minister of Agriculture, told the Legislature yesterday that in no period he could remember had the agriculturists of B.C. been so self-

Slept Like a Top After One Dose of Buckley's Mixture

Mothers, follow this lady's example and use Buckley's Mixture when any member of your family has a cough, cold, croup, bronchitis or whooping cough. She says: "Last night my son, aged 11, was coughing terribly and could not get to sleep. I gave him a dose of Buckley's Mixture with honey and he slept the night through. This morning his cough is quite gone."—Mrs. B. Jones, Verdun, P.Q.

Your experience will be just as satisfactory. Buckley's Mixture is the standby in 3 out of 5 Canadian homes. It cures the cough almost instantly, softens phlegm, soothes raw air passages, helps correct over-acidities—relieves you of coughs and colds in record time.

He offered to throw the entire record of his administration under investigation of the House agriculture committee and join issue with the opposition in any argument on farm policies, confident he would have the support of the farmers.

"For seven years I have devoted every ounce of energy I possess to improving the position of the farmer, left in a deplorable state by the former government," he said, "and I do not know of a time when their outlook was more hopeful."

Part of this was undoubtedly due to the war boom, he added, but more was the result of scientific study of farm problems and mutual understanding of the farmers' difficulties.

MARKETING ACT
Dr. MacDonald said the foundation of the improvement in agriculture was the Natural Products Marketing Act he had championed and twitted the C.C.F. for having called it a negation of Magna Charta and coercion of minorities.

"I cannot understand why those who will fight to the death for collective bargaining for labor would deny the same rights to farmers," he said.

This remark called from Harold Winch, C.C.F. leader, at the end of the minister's speech, an immediate denial that the C.C.F. had opposed controlled marketing. He said the C.C.F. had only opposed the rush with which the original bill was put through the House.

Premier Pattullo interjected that the C.C.F. could, through parliamentary rights, easily have stopped the rush and this brought E. E. Winch, C.C.F. Burnaby, to his feet shouting that the Premier was not correct.

SIX YEARS OF TRIAL

Dr. MacDonald said in six years of trial and error for marketing it had become a success, as instances by the fact six Canadian provinces had modeled legislation along the same line and the Dominion had invoked similar steps under the War Measures Act.

"And I say now not one scheme set up under the act with the support of the white population has been revoked by vote. I don't think producers will ever revoke a plan that gives the people who produce and own the products the control over its merchandising. It is the greatest contribution for our diversified farming that has ever been put on Canadian statute books."

The minister said before the act passed 65 per cent of potatoes were produced in B.C. by Orientals. Today 65 per cent were produced by whites.

"There is no desire to pillory Orientals," he said, "but we insist they comply with regulations."

ANSWERS TELFORD

At various points in his speech the minister countered arguments that had been advanced by Mayor Lyle Telford of Vancouver. For instance, he said, while potatoes shipped to the prairies must bring a smaller return than those sold on the domestic market because of freight differences, the prairie consumers actually paid more for the potatoes than the B.C. consumers.

Regarding importation of farm products to B.C., he said a large part of these were pre-season products brought in to meet the "insatiable appetite of those who can afford to pay."

The minister rehearsed in detail numerous policies which he said had been of vast benefit to the farmers—encouragement to fairs, the swine policy already getting better prices for producers, encouragement for new crops through the agricultural production committee, bull and livestock sales, beef grading, encouragement of seed production, and junior livestock clubs, a cannery at Grand Forks, and plans for a processing plant in the Okanagan.

SEEK EGG SOLUTION

He announced that every effort was being made through the federal government and the B.C. acting agent-general in London to get surplus B.C. eggs moving to the United Kingdom. High shipping rates set by the British Ministry of Shipping have blocked shipments.

The minister said one answer to British Columbia farm problems lay with the citizenry, who should devote their buying to B.C. goods rather than just what the trade offered. He said there were many imported nonessentials purchased and in many cases B.C. products would do just as well.

The minister took the occasion to reply to opposition members who two years ago had accused him of running away from criticism in the House to attend some functions on the mainland, saying he was prepared to debate his farm policies with them anywhere.

He wondered about the Conservative leader's change of attitude, politically, suggesting it might be the result of "the Belshazzar feast at Penticton that had found some one wanting."

"But I am glad to see him sailing in true colors now. It is better for him and better for the country," he said.

British Prisoners

LONDON (CP)—War Secretary Anthony Eden informed the House of Commons yesterday that Axis forces have captured about 44,000 British soldiers, sailors and airmen in the 14 months of war.

Cheaper Road Work Urged

A sharp exchange on the methods of calling road contracts in British Columbia developed in the Legislature yesterday when Samuel Guthrie, C.C.F., Cowichan-Newcastle, urged that all road building be done by day labor, or, if not, that road bids be thrown open to all contractors.

He said roads could be built cheaper by day labor than by road contract. Throwing open of bids to all contractors would also reduce costs, he maintained.

"It has never been denied there is a charmed circle of contractors and that the Liberal Party gets campaign funds from it," he said.

"Do you make that charge?" asked Premier Pattullo.

"No, but the Daily Province did," replied Mr. Guthrie.

"No one believes the Province," declared the Premier.

"But it wasn't denied," said Mr. Guthrie.

"Any charge that you want to make will be fully investigated," said the Premier.

"What, a man like me with a five-acre farm make a charge against this government? I know there are ways of concealing graft," retorted Mr. Guthrie.

"Does the Premier deny there is a selected group of contractors?" asked R. W. Bruhn, Conservative, Salmon Arm.

UNRELIABLE CONTRACTORS

The Premier said the government had had experience with unreliable contractors who would bid, and even put up deposits, then fail to carry out the work properly.

Mr. Guthrie, in other parts of his address, appealed for a statement of the Empire's war aims, saying the C.C.F. did not want to return to the old ways.

"We don't want the world ruled by Hitler. But we also don't want the world ruled by the British ruling class," he said.

PLEA FOR MINES

The member put in a plea for Vancouver Island miners, asking that they be paid by the short ton instead of the long ton, that coal-cutting machines be run by men with certificates of competency, that safety contrivances be put on cars, safety roads be put in every 100 feet in the mines, technical men provided on juries on fatal accidents, and establishment of wash houses at the pit heads.

The Liberals are opposed to the miners being clean," he said, recalling that a bill he put in some years ago for wash houses had been ruled out by the Speaker.

He urged payment of $30 old age pensions at age 65, saying there was plenty of money for destruction and should be funds available for this, and added that red tape for securing pensions should be wiped out.

AGAINST SETTLEMENT

Mr. Guthrie hotly attacked land settlement proposals, saying settlers now could not make a living. Bonuses for farmers and cheaper freight rates were the solution for farmers' troubles. Influx of thousands of settlers would not win the war.

Criticizing the Page Croft immigration plan, he termed it a profit scheme, mentioning that Lord Croft had already been called a Fascist in the House.

Mr. Guthrie also appealed for immediate operation of health insurance.

Free Debate On Rowell Report

Premier Pattullo told the Legislature bluntly yesterday the government has neither any desire nor intention of squelching discussion about the Rowell-Sirois report, or the government's attitude towards it.

"No action of myself, or any member of the government has been intended in any way to cut short discussion on this question," he said, declaring there appeared to be an impression abroad that the government was trying to stifle further debate on the report.

"I want to make it perfectly clear every member of this House has every right to talk as much as he wants about it," the Premier added.

Making this explanation on a point of privilege, the Premier moved a resolution that "the House regrets misunderstandings caused through ignorance, prejudice and falsification," and then withdrew it when his point was made.

The Premier said his statement of last week was to the effect the government was not going to take an unalterable stand in respect of the report before it goes to the Ottawa conference in January. The B.C. delegation did not want to go to the conference with a stubborn viewpoint that might block a reasonable solution.

Harold Winch, C.C.F. leader, who had issued a public statement urging the government to change its attitude, explained this had referred to the party's desire for the government to state its views on the report. Herbert Anscomb, for the Conservatives, said his party also wanted the government to state what its views were on the report.

City Council Topics

City Requests Share Of Community Chest

On behalf of the city welfare office the City Council will apply to the Community Chest directorate for a percentage of the returns it secured from its campaign here. Decision to make the application was reached at yesterday afternoon's council meeting following reception of a letter from E. G. Snowden, relief officer, asking the city for permission to secure a fund for supplementary relief to indigent Victorians who might face exceptional hardship during the cold of winter.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Ready to Go

The liver should pour out two pints of bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food will not digest. It just drops to the bowels. Gas builds up your stomach. You get constipated. Bile enters the blood and the world looks green.

A marvelous movement down takes place at the liver or gall. It takes three good, old Carter's Little Liver Pills to get them two pints of bile flowing freely and make you "up and up". Bile enters the blood and the liver is healthy. They do the work of a hundred but have no oil or mercury in them. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name. (Slightly reforming anything else, the name.)

His Indigestion Pains Vanished

Vancouver Man Couldn't Eat a Meal Without Suffering — Couldn't Sleep — Now Says Mosby's Tonic Has Relieved His Suffering and He Sleeps Fine Again

Another Actual Instance of Relief from Long Suffering came to light here a few days ago in a statement about MOSBY'S TONIC received from Mr. D. Stewart of 3333 Prince Albert St., Vancouver. Mosby's Tonic is a New Scientific Compound of Roots and Herbs and Other Splendid Ingredients which is being introduced to the public daily in this city at the Cunningham Drug Store. Read what Mr. Stewart has to say about Mosby's Tonic. Find out — for yourself — what this medicine CAN DO!

MR. STEWART

Indigestion Pains Kept Him in Distress

"I certainly had a long period of suffering with indigestion and stomach trouble," said Mr. Stewart. "My stomach was so full of sour, gassy substance that I couldn't eat a meal without suffering. The pains were so intense they kept me awake at night. It seemed that every bite of food I ate would ferment and turn sour. I ALWAYS felt bloated up with gas. My bowels were sluggish and I felt weak and worn out."

"I had been trying medicines and treatments of various kinds for my suffering, but got no real relief. Finally I heard about Mosby's Tonic and what it was doing for so many people. I got this medicine and started taking it. Before my first bottle was gone I could eat a meal without suffering. I continued with it a few weeks longer, and now, I can hardly believe the change it has made in me. It has relieved those indigestion pains so that I can eat anything I want now. This medicine certainly had a splendid action on my stomach and cleared out all the gas. I sleep fine and don't have sluggish bowels like I used to and I feel better than in YEARS. I want to endorse such a medicine to others."

Acts on Bowels, Stomach; Helps You in General

MOSBY'S TONIC acts in several ways at one and the same time. That is, it contains 30 ingredients, including 18 roots and herbs. So it helps you in GENERAL. It cleanses the bowels and clears gas and blood from stomach. It calms the liver, cleanses bile from the system and relieves biliousness, sick headache and yellowish "muddy" complexion. It invigorates the kidney action and relieves night riding and backache. Well, read what people can feel like different men and women.

Another thing—due to the immense volume in which it sells, the price of Mosby's Tonic is reasonable. It is within the reach of ALL. In fact, you can actually take this splendid formula for just a few cents per day. So don't hesitate. Get Mosby's Tonic—NOW—and start taking it!

MOSBY'S TONIC is sold in Victoria at THE CUNNINGHAM DRUG STORE, Port and Douglas Sts., and also sold by all leading druggists throughout Victoria and Vancouver Island.

it had been given $4,000 in 1939. Alderman R. A. C. Dewar thought the Chest should provide at least $2,000 to the city department for its special welfare work.

Mr. Snowden emphasized the fact he needed a fund to work on in the event of a particularly severe cold snap which would create an urgent need for additional fuel and blankets for those in reduced circumstances. Already, he noted, the city was over-spending the amount for welfare work. The department, he added, was shut off from the benefits of the Chest because it was not a voluntary institution.

"I consider we are just as much a social organization as any in Victoria," Mr. Snowden stated, after Alderman J. A. Worthington had suggested a direct appeal to the public, and Alderman W. L. Morgan had remarked the Community Chest was organized to prevent overlapping in such approaches.

Alderman Ed. Williams presented the motion calling for a direct request to the Community Chest for a share for the welfare department.

The motion carried after Mr. Snowden, replying to questions, had stated the council had no representative on the Chest directorate and had said relief office files and facilities were used by the Chest workers to their advantage.

The council approved the recommendation of the finance committee calling on it to return cheques and bids made by the Colwood Park Racing Association and the Idle Hour Stock Farm and Racing Association for use of the Willows Park at the conclusion of the existing agreement with the former. Specifications were being prepared on which bids would be invited, the council was informed.

An additional grant of $720 was approved for the Children's Aid Society.

On the suggestion of the public works committee the council declined responsibility for injuries allegedly sustained by Ethel Kennedy from a fall on Russell Street sidewalk. Granting of a compassionate allowance was left to the mayor and city solicitor.

Approval was given the works committee's recommendation covering painting of partial strips on Douglas Street to facilitate 30 degree angle parking. The by-law amendment covering angle parking on the street was finally passed later in the meeting. Costs of marking will be $30.

A property on the northeast corner of Douglas and Pembroke was sold for $1,500 and a lot and a half on Fairfield, between Vancouver and Cook for $1,200 on terms, on the recommendation of the lands committee. Inclusion of an additional parcel in the Thunderbird Totem Park lease to the provincial government was approved and tenders for the demolition of a Collinson Street structure were referred to the lands committee with power to act. Two other demolition moves, proposed by the health committee, were authorized.

At the request of militia authorities, the lights committee agreed to study lighting needs in the vicinity of the Worsted Mills. Installation of adequate flood-lighting for Macdonald Park, where militia groups drill, was reported by Alderman S. H. Oskell, who stated the work had been done by the Dominion government following requests from Alderman B. J. Gadsden.

Royal Canadian Humane Society parchments won by Sheila Chambers and A. H. Savage for their heroic rescue in Thetis Lake during September, 1939, will be presented at the next meeting of the council.

Requests for two no-park strips were referred to the public works committee.

W. J. Alder and Grace M. Alder were given an additional four months in which to repair the dwelling and outbuildings at 810 Port Street as the council relaxed its condemnation order on the structures.

The request of W. Langley for a light at the corner of Scott Street and Hillside Avenue and removal of broom growing on the corner was turned over to the electric lights and public works committees.

Sick pay was authorized for J. D'Arcy, employee of the garbage department.

The water board's report, outlining the need for replacement of the main at Sooke Road and Maple Street, was shelved for another four weeks at the request of the board chairman, Alderman Worthington.

SUCCESSION DUTIES LUNCHEON THEME

"It is important to you to give thought and care to the nature of the investment you hold," Roy Manzer, Victoria lawyer, advised members of the Credit Granters' Association at luncheon in Spencer's yesterday, in telling of the legal workings of the Succession Duty Act.

"You must see that your holdings will not come within the clutches of tax departments of provinces other than the one in which you live," he said, in explaining that it was possible for a beneficiary to have to pay two sets of taxes on an estate received through a death, one in the province in which he lived and another in the province of the estate.

The speaker explained that a Succession Duty Act had been in force in British Columbia since 1894. A new act was brought into force in this province in 1934. Prior to that time there were reciprocal arrangements between the various provinces of the Dominion which looked after double pay of taxes. Reciprocal arrangements ceased when the new act was made law.

Victorians gave $1,575.50 last week for relief of disabled ex-servicemen and their dependents. Money was contributed through the sale of Remembrance Day poppies. In charge of the poppy sale was J. G. Curry-Wood who voiced appreciation of all workers to the public for the generous support given.

Tells of Cheap World-wide Trip

A story of two young Canadians with love of adventure who worked and liked their way around the world, paying for transportation about $75 each, was told a large audience at First United Church Monday night by one of the travelers, LeRoy Toll, a graduate of the University of Toronto and a native of London, Ontario.

From Canada, Mr. Toll took his listeners by outboard across the Atlantic, then on a "bicycle-built-for-two" tour of England, Scotland, Ireland, Wales, Belgium, Holland, Germany, Luxembourg and France.

In Paris they sold their tandem and set out to hitch hike. Southward through France, Switzerland and Italy they journeyed by wiggling their thumbs by the side of the road to passing travelers. Despite the fact this old American custom was new in Europe the two brothers fared well even though they were arrested twice in Italy for using this means of transportation.

After visiting Greece the hikers reached Palestine where they spent three months exploring the sacred places of Scripture.

Across the North Syrian Desert they made their way to Iraq, then down the Persian Gulf to India in which country they traveled 2,000 miles by rail, third class, for $2.50 each, sleeping in the railway stations. From Calcutta they sailed deck passage to Burma and from Singapore they proceeded up the coast to Shanghai. Here they went broke and after a month of beach-combing, secured jobs on a tramp-steamer which brought them to Canada. They went south to San Francisco and hitch-hiked home again across the United States.

The lecture was illustrated with fine pictures.

The lecture will be repeated tonight at Oak Bay United Church at 8 and tomorrow night at Metropolitan Church. Mr. Toll will give a lecture, "Hiking Through South America," the story of his 16-month hike with his brother through the mountains and jungles of the southern continent. This will be repeated Friday night at Centennial United Church.

DOUBLE CROSS. That is the best way to describe the deal received by the Victoria Revellers from Vancouver Bulldogs over the visit of the Calgary Bronks to the Pacific Coast for exhibition football. It is no wonder George Deacon, coach of the local club, went up in the air when informed the Vancouver club had gone ahead on its own and completed arrangements for the prairie squad to appear in the mainland city, leaving Victoria out in the cold.

At Saturday's game between Revellers and the Bulldogs the writer walked up to Deacon and told him about the forthcoming game between the Bronks and Vancouver. It was the first inkling he had of the "behind-the-back scheming" of the Vancouver officials and he was stunned, to say the least. "I was in touch with the Vancouver club officials and players all day and they didn't have the nerve to tell me about their plans," Deacon said. "That certainly proves they had a plenty guilty feeling. Original plans were for the Revellers and the Bulldogs to bring the Bronks to the Coast and share the expenses. Apparently Vancouver figured they could do it on their own and, as usual, treated Victoria to the Mussolini act."

Vancouver Maple Leafs invaded Victoria for a basketball game with the Dominos Saturday night and took a beating. As usual, the Vancouver scribes figured out an alibi for their pets. This time it was a case of the mainlanders were unable to stand up under the rough playing of our Dominos and the referees were home-towners. Poor little Leafs. When they had to take a back seat when it came to roughing it up? Messrs. Joe Ross, Jimmy Bardsley and Art Willoughby are quite able to hold their own in the toughest kind of company. They have been around too long not to have learned the useful art of tossing an elbow or a knee along with the best. The referee question is the oldest alibi in the history of sport. When you can't find anybody else to pick on, go after the poor officials.

Our friend Stu Keate of the Province appears to take personal delight in getting personal. This time he vents his spleen on the Chapman boys, Art and Chuck. He writes in part: "Not having the sense to retire when Mayers died, they are relying on court-craft to get by, substituting elbows, hips and outstretched legs for what was once definite basketball skill." Despite the opinion of Mr. Keate, the Chapmans still have a lot of good basketball left in their systems. And if a few more athletes had looked after themselves like these two boys they would still be in the competitive field and not warming the bench. Better stick to your putter and the 19th hole, Stu.

Had a chat yesterday with Ken Black, Vancouver's great little golfer, who was paying one of his regular business visits to the city. Told me he is not playing much these days, despite the fact his front door is practically on one of the Capilano Club fairways. Vancouver golf has suffered little from the war and his own club's membership (Capilano) is larger now than it was last spring, Black stated. He further informed us that no club in Vancouver intended to make an effort to have Harry Cooper appear. "Nobody wants to take a gamble on the weather," Black said.

NEW YORK (AP)—Frank McCormick, first baseman for the world champion Cincinnati Reds, was the National League's most valuable player in 1940, a committee for the Baseball Writers' Association of America announced today.

He hit .309 and drove in 127 runs, compared with a batting average of .322 and 128 runs batted in in 1939.

Last year he was rated fourth in the annual vote by 24 veteran baseball scribes, three from each National League city. This year he was first, getting 16 of the 24 votes for first place and 274 points, 69 more than Johnny Mize, the slugging first sacker of St. Louis Cardinals, who also was second in 1939.

The reason for the rise of McCormick in contradiction of the figures in the record books is easily apparent. Last year the Reds captured the pennant on marvelous pitching, but this year their hurling was less effective and they repeated on tight defensive play and the ability to punch across runs at the right time.

This was where McCormick figured—the best defensive first baseman in the league, second only to Mize in runs batted in, the leader in doubles and tied for the lead in total hits. He gave the Reds their pennant punch.

Claims West-east Game Will Go On

TORONTO (CP)—President Fred Hamilton of the Sports Service League yesterday said "Winipeg Blue Bombers have a football date at Varsity Stadium for December 7, and we'll have opposition for them even if we have to muster an all-star eastern team." He added that his organization also was ready to sponsor an east-west game in Toronto under western rules "if suitable arrangements can be made."

Coast League Retains Series

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Officials of the Pacific Coast League voted yesterday to retain the president's cup playoff series for a $12,500 purse when the 1941 baseball season rolls around.

Expected opposition to the playoff, otherwise known as the Shaughnessy Cup system, failed to materialize, although the Los Angeles club previously had expressed opposition to its continuance.

The Coast League campaign will start April 5 and end September 21. A schedule was adopted after lengthy discussion behind closed doors.

Seattle, 1940 pennant winner, will open at San Francisco, Portland at Los Angeles, Oakland at San Diego, Hollywood at Sacramento.

The league's veteran-rookie rule was revised permitting the clubs to have 20 veteran ball players and five of the rookie variety whose experience does not exceed two years. The old limit was 18 veterans and seven rookies.

The law was enacted because batteries, applied during a race, spur a horse to greater than natural speed.

JUNIOR SOCCER

The Junior and Juvenile Football League will meet Monday night in the Colonist boardroom at 7.30, instead of this evening as originally planned. As election of officers will be in order at the meeting, all teams are asked to have representatives present. Prospective sponsors of clubs are asked to get in touch with Bill Pynn, Athletic Park, or attend the meeting.

BOXING

COLUMBUS, O.—Jack (Buddy) Walker, 193, Columbus, and Otis Thomas, 198, Chicago, drew (10).

NEW YORK—Everett Rightmire, 131, Sioux City, Ia., outpointed Joey Fontana, 134, Brooklyn (10).

NEW YORK—Tami Mauriello, 159½, New York, outpointed Vince Delicourt, 149½, New York (8).

WHITE PLAINS, N.Y.—Antonio Fernandez, 152½, Chile, outpointed Gene Molnar, 153, New York (8).

Golden Gloves Title His Aim

Is Victoria's hard-punching heavyweight Jack Patterson going to enter the professional ranks?

The answer is: Yes... with an If.

If he wins the national U.S. Golden Gloves heavy belt, which he will shortly be campaigning for in the squared ring, Patterson will make the jump into the money ranks.

One hundred and ninety pounds of solid fighter, Jack has been undergoing stiff training at the Victoria Boys' Sports and Hobby Club for some time to prepare himself for battle up the long, steep grade to the coveted championship.

Patterson has a heavy fighting schedule to handle during the rest of the month. On Friday he will journey to the mainland to take part in the Vancouver Grandview Athletic Club's boxing show that night. His opponent will be Jack Conley, Seattle Golden Gloves star. They are billed for the main go.

On November 22 and 23 the local heavy will be featured in the Vancouver Sun's Golden Gloves tournament in the Terminal City. A week later he will open his bid for national U.S. amateur honors when he takes part in the Seattle P.I.'s Golden Gloves tournament in the Sound City. If successful there he will advance into the next round of the national tournament.

In addition to training at the club, Jack has been hardening up his muscles at the V.M.D. in his daily job as a shipwright's helper.

Contact Glasses for Grid Star

Nearsighted, Bob Ingalls, Michigan University football centre, would be helpless on pass defense without contact glasses. Filled with saline solution, lenses are put under eyelids with little suction cup. A special headgear is unnecessary.

Cleveland Oddity

Peckinpough Back

CLEVELAND (AP)—Assured there will be "no front office interference," once-fired Roger Peckinpough yesterday stepped back into the management of the turbulent Cleveland Indians.

President Alva Bradley emphasized his "free hand" statement by giving Peckinpough a two-year contract, which is believed to call for $12,000 annually plus a bonus clause based on attendance. Oscar Vitt, ousted 1940 manager of the American Baseball League team, was paid $15,000 and the attendance bonus under his last one-year pact and probably made at least $20,000.

"We have heard so much about the front office running the Cleveland baseball team that I want to make this clear," Bradley said. "Rog" is on his own as far as operating the ball club. The only time the front office will step into the picture is when he needs assistance and asks for it."

EXPECTS CO-OPERATION

Peckinpough commented: "I know I am going to have full co-operation of the club. Mr. Bradley has always been in my corner. Anything that happens on the ball field will be my fault." Bradley fired Peck in mid-1933 in favor of Walter Johnson. At that time the club president said: "I still feel that you have the ability to be a successful manager, but if we don't win under you we'll have to try someone else. All the owner can do is appoint the manager. The public fires him."

Yesterday Bradley, addressing Peck before a newspapermen's luncheon, declared: "You didn't have much material then. With what you had, I always felt that you did an excellent job."

In five and a half seasons as Cleveland manager, Peck's teams won 416 games and lost 402 and never finished above third place. Since then he managed Kansas City and New Orleans one year apiece.

Peck, now 49, was one of the best shortstops of his time. He started his playing career with the old Cleveland Naps in 1910 and ended it in 1927 with Chicago White Sox. He was named the American League's most valuable player while with Washington in 1925 and was employed by the American League last season in a promotional capacity.

Gun Club Plans

The Victoria Shoot and Gun Club plans to give the Canadian Red Cross Society a fine Christmas present this year in the form of a sizeable wad of folding money.

The club plans to do this through the medium of a monster turkey shoot out at the Albert Head Road shooting grounds, to which all Vancouver Island shot-gun marksmen will be invited.

The date for the big event, the biggest ever planned on the island, is December 22.

SYD HOWE STILL TOP ICE SCORER

Syd Howe, Detroit Red Wing forward, retained the lead among National Hockey League point-makers today despite the fact his team did not see action last night.

Five players are tied behind Howe with three points apiece with three of them—George Allen and Mush March of Chicago and Milt Schmidt of Boston—gaining the necessary points in last night's Chicago-Boston game, the only one of the night.

Leaders follow:
G. A. Pts.
Howe, Detroit ..... 13 3 4
Allen, Chicago ..... 3 0 3
Drillon, Toronto ..... 2 1 3
Schmidt, Boston ..... 2 1 3
Hextall, Rangers ..... 1 2 3
March, Chicago ..... 1 2 3

Executive of the Victoria and District Football League will gather in the Colonist boardroom tomorrow night at 8. All members are requested to attend.

The third monthly competition consisting of 18 holes medal play on handicap will be held Sunday at the Victoria Golf Club. Competitors will choose their opponents and arrange for their starting times. Post entries will be accepted.

Red Cross Shoot

It will be an all-day affair, opening at 10.30 in the morning, rain or shine, and continuing as long as there is enough light to see the clay pigeons "winging" through space.

Besides aiding the Red Cross, the event should provide much keen enjoyment for shooters. Turkey will be the prize for shooters posting best scores in the many events on the program. A buffet turkey lunch will be served in the clubhouse.

Dominos Play Arrows Tonight

Basketball fans will be offered a senior men's doubleheader at the Willows Sports Centre tonight. It is the intention of the commission to present four of the ranking squads in a pair of tussles each Wednesday evening.

Tonight's feature will see the Dominos, with four straight victories to their credit, tackle the Arrows for the second time this season. The league leaders will be strengthened by the return of Busher Jackson to the line-up. After leaving the Dominos to play with Arrows, Jackson decided to transfer back to his former club.

In the second senior clash K.V.'s and 5th Brigade will tangle. The opening tilt will be an intermediate "B-boys" game between Young Dominos and Fairfield, starting at 7.

Games last night at the High School resulted in Young Arrows defeating Y.M.C.A. Juniors 28 to 11, Cardinals defeating Units 34 to 16 and Y.M.C.A. turning back Hoyle-Brown 22 to 17.

Teams and scores follow:
Units—V. Bourke 7, G. Jones, C. Reid 6, M. Meddler, M. Harrison 1, D. Lee 2, V. Gosnell and Scott.
Cardinals—L. Spark 11, P. Whyte 4, B. Hutching, E. Snyder 8, E. Manson 2, D. Crowe and J. Trotter 9.

Hoyle-Brown—Nixon 3, McFarlane 2, Woodhouse 5, Walker 2, Olsen 3, Finlay 2, Wilkinson, Oliver and Malcolm.

Y.M.C.A.—Towill, Wright 5, Clarke 4, Sprinkling, Henry 2, Syme, Johnstone 6, Mitchell 3, Hay 1 and Stewart 1.

Y.M.C.A.—H. Baker 5, Narod, Harwood, N. Baker, Roberts 2, McKay and Stewart 4.

Young Arrows—Earl 4, Kuwahara 8, Hetherington, Carson 8, McArthur 2, Der 6, Mar and Bath.

U-Drive Teams Register Wins

Behind their opponents by two points at the conclusion of the singles, Hill's U-Drive, in senior division matches of the Victoria Table Tennis League last night at the Strathcona Hotel, swept through the doubles to take all four games, thereby gaining a win by two points over Liberty Cafe. The final score was 19 to 17. The win placed the U-Drive team five points ahead in the league race.

MacDonald Electric's fight to keep away from the lower booth was unsuccessful last night when they bowed to Sylvester U-Drive 21 to 15. Laurie Greenwood and Bill Cotton worked like Trojans to bring their team out of last place, turning in 13 points between them to give the team a six-point margin.

Individual scores follow:
Hill's U-Drive—Prior 3, Renfrew 6, D. Elworthy 4, A. Elworthy 2. Doubles: Renfrew and D. Elworthy 2, Prior and A. Elworthy 2.

Liberty Cafe—Jarvis 3, Chatell 3, Dawson 6, W. Robinson 5. Doubles: Chattell and Jarvis 4, Dawson and Robinson 6.

Sylvester U-Drive—Miss B. McKay 4, Mrs. L. Greenwood 2, L. Greenwood 6, W. Cotton 7. Doubles: Miss McKay and Greenwood 1, Mrs. Greenwood and Cotton 1.

MacDonald Electric—A. Seed 2, D. Robinson 0, Tully 6, Browne-Cave 5, Doubles: Seed and Robinson 0, Tully and Browne-Cave 2. The five leading players in the race for individual league honors listed with their wins and losses, follow: L. Greenwood 40 and 8, A. Renfrew 39 and 9, W. Browne-Cave 35 and 13, W. Cotton 33 and 15, and R. Dawson 31 and 17.

With the Forces Parcels Must Be Properly Packed

Hon. William F. Mulock, K.C., M.P., Postmaster-General, has received reports from the Canadian Postal Corps overseas that parcels containing oranges, grapes and apples have been arriving with the fruit decayed. Other packages contained broken glass jars of jam, etc.—not only the contents of the parcel containing the jam but other mail is damaged by this sticky substance. Lack of care in preparing such parcels causes anxiety and disappointment when they fail to arrive or to reach their destination in good condition.

The Canadian Postal Corps salvaged and forwarded to the addressees such of the contents that were not totally ruined.

Though parcel post is not the proper medium for the shipment of fruit or vegetables overseas, those who use this service should never include such commodities in a parcel with other articles. The only likely way to mail fruit or vegetables successfully is to wrap each item separately in paper, and pack the shipment in a strong tin box. If each article is dipped in wax before wrapping in paper, it has a better chance to reach its destination. The tin box should be wrapped in thick paper, with an additional wrapping of linen, calico or canvas well sewn on.

Persons mailing jams, etc., should avoid using glass bottles which will break and cause damage to the other mail and may injure the personnel handling the mail. Such substances should be put up, like butter, for mailing in sealed tins enclosed in strong cardboard containers, and it is recommended that absorbent material be used to wrap the tin. Parcels should be wrapped in several layers of thick paper and securely tied with strong twine. A slip containing the address and also the sender's return address should be inserted with the contents as a safeguard.

Customs declarations should accompany each parcel, which should be correctly addressed and prepaid, and bear the return address of the sender.

Mail to those on military service outside Canada should be addressed as follows:

Regimental number,
Rank and name,
Unit, i.e., company, squadron, battery, holding unit, etc.,
Full name of regiment or service.

C.A.S.F., Base Post Office,
Canada.

Parcels sent to members of the forces still in Canada should not be addressed care of the Base Post Office, Canada, but to the unit and camp in this country.

Major George Nicholson, war horse of the 1914-18 affair and known everywhere returned soldiers gather in this province, has returned to uniform. He is now a captain at the Colwood camp. Most of the time since the last war he has been on the west coast, working north as new communities opened. Since Zeballos came on the map he has been there in charge of a government office.

OTTAWA (CP)—Dr. A. E. Chatwin, formerly of Saskatoon, who has been serving as administrative officer of the education division of the Canadian Legion War Services at Ottawa, has gone to the United Kingdom as overseas director of education for the Canadian forces, it was announced today.

In making this known Canadian Legion War Services Inc. said Lt.-Gen. A. G. T. McNaughton, commander of the British-Canadian Corps overseas, had approved Dr. Chatwin's appointment.

In the first great war Dr. Chatwin rose from private to captain in the Canadian Field Artillery and won the Military Cross.

The Legion announcement reported that in approving Dr. Chatwin's appointment Gen. McNaughton said, "we are particularly impressed with the possibilities of the Legion's correspondence courses, the success of which will depend on the provision of adequate and competent staff."

COLWOOD

Colwood Men's Club will hear W. J. Parkinson at their monthly meeting this evening at 8.

Sympathy of thousands of Americans towards Britain's cause in the war is indicated by the fact that in San Francisco thousands of windows contain posters appealing for help for the British War Relief Association Fund of Northern California. On the poster is a picture of a British building guarding the Union Jack, and the heading reads: "Alone and Unafraid."

PLANNING AHEAD

WITH THE HELP OF THE GREAT-WEST LIFE

THIS YOUNG MAN earns no more than average, yet he makes his earnings accomplish much. A fixed sum is set aside each month for deposit with the GREAT-WEST LIFE. This will provide protection for his family when he marries; a substantial monthly income for himself later on. It will also provide credit, should he require it. His annual investment pays for more protection because he purchased insurance in early life.

Take advantage of the GREAT-WEST LIFE man's counsel when planning your insurance program. Behind him stand the experience, resources and facilities of one of Canada's oldest and strongest life insurance companies.

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING RATES

In per word per insertion.
 Minimum charge, 50c.
 Births, $1.00 per insertion.
 Deaths, $1.00 per insertion.
 Deaths, $1.00 first insertion and $1.00 subsequent insertions.
 Funeral notices, in Memoriam notices and Cards of Thanks, $1.00 per insertion.

In computing the number of words in an advertisement, count five words for the first two lines and seven words for each line thereafter. This is not an absolute guide to the number of lines, much depending on the style of the individual words.

The Times will not be responsible for more than one insertion of any advertisement unless it is paid for in advance. Any claim for return of money on account of error or omission must be made within 10 days from the date of the error, otherwise the claim will not be allowed.

Advertisers who desire it may have replies addressed to a box at the Times Office and forwarded to their private address. A charge of 10c is made for this service.

Subscribers wishing their addresses changed should notify this office as well as the carrier. If your Times is missing, please phone 1233 before 7 p.m., and a copy will be sent by special messenger.

BOX REPLY AVAILABLE

Letters addressed to the following boxes are available at the Times Office on presentation of the appropriate money order. Replies are obtained by advertisers who follow up replies promptly.

Col. H. M. Urquhart, D.S.O., M.C., colonel of the 16th Canadian Scottish Regiment, is shown above after he had placed a wreath on the memorial to his regiment in Pioneer Square yesterday morning. The famous memorial was brought here from Vimy Ridge and erected several years ago.

Canada Fighters Grow in Numbers

When Prime Minister Mackenzie King spoke in the House of Commons yesterday he gave some interesting figures on the numbers of men in Canada's fighting forces.

He said that on November 6,
the Canadian Active Service Force strength was 167,417 men,
with 52,093 men serving outside the Dominion in Iceland, the West Indies, Newfoundland and the British Isles.

He paid tribute to the 65,000
officers and men of the non-permanent active militia who trained in their spare time and on holidays in various training camps throughout the country so that they should be ready if their services were needed.

Mr. King described the growth of the Royal Canadian Navy to a complement of 13,034 men on November 7, with more than 150
naval units at sea. More men were seeking enlistment in the navy than could possibly be accepted, he said.

Royal Canadian Air Force
strength had grown to 2,343 officers and 30,599 men on November 2 and 6,884 men had enlisted for training as air crews, the Prime Minister told Commons members.

He added the British Commonwealth air training scheme was well ahead of schedule.

NEW R.C.A.F. CHAPLAIN

Rev. Dr. George A. Macdonald, pastor of Knox United Church in Edmonton, has received a commission to be chaplain in the Royal Canadian Air Force for an area covering Saskatchewan, Alberta and British Columbia. His headquarters in this province will be with the Western Air Command in Victoria.

Dr. Macdonald's acceptance is in abeyance, it is understood, because he is now recovering from an appendicitis operation. His acceptance will bring him the rank of flight lieutenant.

Dr. Macdonald, minister at the Edmonton church for the last six years, went there from Fergus, Ontario. He served previously in pastorates in Ottawa and Elora, Ontario, and was a chaplain during the first Great War.

ASK REGISTRATION

The Auxiliary Services wish to make an appeal to all organizations who are entertaining the troops in Victoria in any way, to make a point of registering under the Auxiliary Services, which is the central organization caring for entertainment of men in His Majesty's forces.

An endeavor is being made to co-ordinate all entertainment efforts so there will be no overlapping and if this registration is done a chart will be kept showing exactly what camps are being served, in what way and on what date.

All organizations are asked to communicate with Capt. W.
Hobart Molson, 414 Central Building, or at telephone E1111, Local 450. This applies to both Sunday and weekday entertainment.

Percy C. Payne, for the past two years exalted ruler of the Victoria Lodge No. 2, B.P.O.
Elks, was returned to office for his third term on Saturday night.
The ceremony, conducted by officers of Vancouver Island and the mainland, was attended by Elks from many up-island centres.

Other officers installed were:
P. A. Fitzsimmons, leading loyal knight; Reginald Hayward Jr., loyal knight; C. C. Howard, lecturing knight; Sinclair Elliot
and A. D. Findlay, trustees; C. V.
Milton, secretary; W. Erickson, esquire; E. S. Blair, chaplain;
Harold Curran, outer guard.

PERCY C. PAYNE

Arthur Cooper, inner guard; G.
F. Todd, historian.

The installing officer was Clifford Gowler, Port Alberni,
D.G.E.R. of Vancouver Island,
assisted by Molby Stewart, secretary of Vancouver Lodge No. 1.
At the annual banquet, following the installation, the traditional 11 o'clock ceremony of the order was conducted by Albert A. Davis, Nanaimo, P.G.E.R.
Toastmaster for the banquet was A. Paton. Entertainment containing community singing,
solos and an exhibition of cutting swinging by A.B. H. Fest followed.

YOUR CAR, SIR

Gerry Bowden tips his hat to Victoria's police force for quick service and tells this story:

"My wife and I had been playing cards last Saturday night.
When we started to leave our friends' home at 150, we found our car had been stolen. I telephoned the police right away. At 2:05, Constable Geo. Claydars phoned back to say he and Sgt.
Ray Woolley had found it. They picked us up, drove us to our car,
on which the wire had been cut,
and pushed it to a service station.
In less than half an hour we were driving home. Now, that's service for you!"

will be adjutant.

Hope-Princeton Road Advocated

Appeal for a substantial vote
out of the government's new road loan for construction on the Hope-Princeton Highway was made in the Legislature yesterday by C.
H. Tupper, Liberal, Similkameen.

He said now that Canadian motorists were more or less restricted to their own highways
there was more call than ever for completion of the road. During last summer, he said, a survey
had been made of the uncompleted portion of the road and the job could go right ahead.

Mr. Tupper opposed creation of a highway commission for the province, suggesting it would cost at least $10,000 a year each for commissioners and administrative costs would be high.

"If such a body were given authority to levy taxation it would be doing just what the government wishes to avoid," he said.

"The government would have to put all the 22,000 miles of highway under the commission, or just the main highways, leaving the secondary roads under the public works department. This would give us dual authority with greater expense."

Mr. Tupper asked for better hospital accommodation for Pentiction and Oliver, a technical school and better school accommodation for Pentiction. He urged government aid for farmers of Okanagan Falls and more consideration for old people and small ranchers by the relief department.

'Dicky' Brown Lost On Bras d'Or

"When he died for the Empire
I know he died happy," said Mrs.
Fred Brown of Springdale, Saskatchewan, on hearing the news that the nine days overdue Canadian minesweeper, Bras d'Or, must be presumed lost in the Gulf of St. Lawrence. Walter J.
"Dicky" Brown, her 20-year-old son, was aboard the minesweeper.

"Dicky," as he was known to his family, was born in England on September 5, 1920, and came to Canada with his parents in 1926, settling on a farm in the Springdale district. He was educated in the Springdale public and high schools, and joined the Royal Canadian Navy at Esquimalt in June, 1938.

Fred Brown, his father, is an unsung hero of the last war. For four years and seven months he served with the Imperials in the last Great War. He was one of 32 members of a family who had served the King, and only nine of these returned. Five of them were disabled for life.

LANGFORD

Residents of the Langford district assembled in the Canadian Legion Hall, Langford, Monday evening in support of the Lord Mayor's refugee fund. The program was presented by the concert party of "Britannia Fragments," under the auspices of the Prince Edward Branch and Women's Auxiliary.

The Esquimalt Dramatic Club gave an entertainment for the soldiers at the Otter Point camp at the week-end. The program included vaudeville sketches, skits, vocal solos and choruses.

Members of the Langford Colwood A.Y.P.A. will meet on Thursday at 8 p.m. in Colwood Hall.

ANN SOTHERN AS 'GOLD RUSH MAISIE'

Ann Sothern, who characterizes the stranded showgirl with the whiplash tongue and the heart of gold as no one else can, returns to her familiar and popular role with more hilarious results than ever before in "Gold Rush Maisie," which opens today at the Atlas Theatre.

A cast of thorough troupers surrounds her. Lee Bowman, Slim Summerville, Fred Gubbins
and Virginia Weidler.

CAPITOL THEATRE

That brightly-burning star of genius which has guided Cecil B.
DeMille to fame as a motion picture producer-director has nothing on the light used by the starring cast of DeMille's new picture for Paramount, "Northwest Mounted Police," which is at the Capitol Theatre. For Gary Cooper and Madeline Carroll are starred,
and the starring players seen include Paulette Goddard, Preston Foster, Robert Preston, Akim
Tamiroff, Lynne Overman, George Bancroft, Lon Chaney Jr.
and Walter Hampden!

An unsurpassed list, it is the biggest cast DeMille has ever offered, a cast suited to the epic proportions of this picture, and one competent to deal with its big story, the fact that this is the master's first all-Technicolor film and the other fast aspects of the production.

RIO THEATRE

Such ingredients as excitement, love and adventure are said to be combined in the production of "Green Hell," initial Famous Productions film for Universal release, which is now at the Rio Theatre.

With Douglas Fairbanks Jr.
and Joan Bennett heading an outstanding cast of 11 principals,
"Green Hell" is declared to capture a realism seldom brought to the screen in films of this type.

CADET THEATRE

Cary Grant and Ralph Bellamy
have only played in two pictures together. In the first, "The Awful Truth," they spent their time fighting over Irene Dunne. In the second, Columbia's Howard Hawks' new romantic comedy,
"His Girl Friday," at the Cadet Theatre, they spend all their time fighting over Rosalind Russell.
Bellamy loses again!

Chile's Tropical Deserts Have Store of Wealth

Southern Chile has a cold climate and northern Chile has a warm climate. That may seem a bit strange, but we can see the reason plainly when we remember that things are "turned around" south of the torrid zone. The southern end of Chile is far closer to the South Pole than the northern end. The farther south one goes in that part of the world, the closer he comes to the frigid zone.

Chile right now is having spring while we are having autumn. It will be summer down there when we are in the midst of winter.

Southern Chile has much snow during June, July and August. In other seasons it suffers heavy downpours of rain.

Forests cover vast areas in southern Chile, and it is hard for a person to get through them because the trees, bushes and vines grow so thickly. Slow-moving rivers wind through the forests in some parts, and at times overflow their banks and form marshes. Travelers who try to walk from one side of a forest to another must be on the lookout for quicksand.

In northern Chile, the climate is warmer but plant life does not grow so well. Thousands of square miles are "tropical deserts."

In those tropical deserts there is a store of wealth. They contain thick beds of nitrate.

Nitrate is a salt of nitric acid. Nature gave beds of it to Chile, and it has been sent from there to countries in many parts of the world.

The sodium nitrate of Chile has the special name of "Chile salt-peter." It has been employed to a great extent in making gunpowder.

That, however, is only one of the ways nitrate can be used. One form of it—silver nitrate—has a place in medicine and also in photography.

Sodium nitrate is of value in giving richness to soil. Thousands of farmers have obtained better crops after treating their fields with this substance.

It may seem odd that something which can help the soil is found in deserts where little plant life grows. There is a way to explain the fact, however—the beds of nitrate are "too much of a good thing." They are far too thick for the purpose of a farmer.

Chile's nitrate fields are mainly on the side of mountains. Most of them are found on heights of from three-fourths of a mile to a mile and a half above sea level.

HOROSCOPE

Wednesday, November 13

Although the 13th is a lucky day, for there is an aspect most promising to human achievement. The morning hours are likely to be slightly disappointing.

This is a fortunate away for the head of the household. While father has a lucky day, the women of the family should take no thought of outside interests, because the stars smile upon home-making. Diet is to be of great interest, also nursing. The stars presage much illness. Influenza in new form is foreseen. Nervous maladies and diseases of malnutrition among refugees will command the help of nurses.

If the stars are wisely interpreted, extreme conscription of wealth will not be imperative, because men who possess money will be intent upon sacrificing their possessions for the common good.

Class consciousness aroused by fifth column emissaries will be erased in coming months as persons of all degrees of attainment unite for the protection of the Empire. The good deeds of the more fortunate are hidden as splendid generosity is extended to those in need.

France is to reorganize speedily under the sign of the swastika, but the stars presage for it a period of dull existence devoid of its former brilliant characteristics. Paris is to make a brave attempt to recover something of its lost glory, but government control of wealth, and Nazi domination will prevent the French spirit from reawakening. Industry will tend to accomplish great things.

THIS CURIOUS WORLD

By William Ferguson

ANSWER: Because the first pair of such twins to gain world-wide prominence were Siamese.

Dorothy Dix's Letter Box

DEAR DOROTHY DIX—I am a young man of 26, physically fit and mentally mature. I am desirous of marriage, but I don't want to have children. Do you think I can find a girl who feels the same way as I do about children, and that we could be happy without them?

JOHN.

Answer: Oh, there are plenty of women who regard children as brats instead of bundles from heaven and would be glad enough to marry a man who is like-minded. So there is no need for you to remain a bachelor because you haven't a perambulator complex.

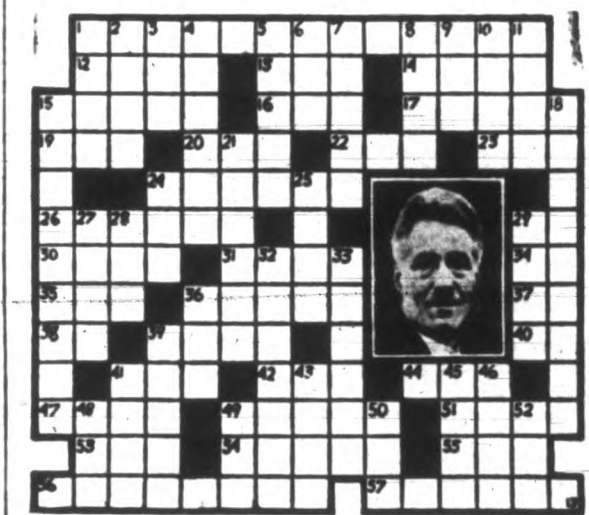

Nor would your not wanting children keep your marriage from being a success, provided that you get a wife who was allergic to kids as you are. The trouble comes in when the husband wants children and the wife doesn't, or the wife longs for babies and the husband won't have them on the premises.

Some of the happiest marriages in the world are childless. The husband and wife, having no encumbrances, are left free to come and go as they please, to do as they like, to spend their money on themselves. And, being thrown on each other for companionship, they achieve a chumminess that you rarely see between husbands and wives who have children.

But while some people can do without children and like it, there can be no doubt that for the great majority children are the most precious by products of marriage and do more to keep it a going concern than anything else.

DOROTHY DIX.

Permission Given To Open Navy Club

Esquimalt Council last evening gave final reading to a zoning by-law amendment by-law which will allow establishment of a naval recreation club in Bryden House, at the corner of Head Street and Old Esquimalt Road. A request was received by the council two weeks ago from Mrs. W. B. L. Holmes, wife of the commanding officer of the Naval Barracks, on behalf of a committee of two other wives of commanders at the Esquimalt station, Mrs. J.

W. R. Beech and Mrs. Andrian Hope, that permission be granted to convert the premises into a club for sailors.

It was found necessary to amend the zoning by-law in order that the request be granted and a special meeting was called a week ago last Friday, at which the amendment by-law was introduced.

The club will provide dancing, games, reading and writing rooms and a dry canteen.

The Victoria Junior Chamber of Commerce was granted $25 to help stage the annual Christmas residential home lighting contest.

W. J. Cave was appointed returning officer for the coming municipal election and A. E. Cave was chosen deputy returning officer. Nominations for the election will be held at the municipal hall December 9. Poll with be taken at the hall and at 826 Craig flower Road.

A street light will be installed at a roadway on municipal property leading to the Queen of Peace Church between Esquimalt Road and Old Esquimalt Road at a cost of $70.

Savage Larva

The larva of the dragonfly is a savage enemy to young fish. It lies in wait until a victim comes into reach, and then snatches it with a vicious, pincer-like organ.

Military Authorities Dilatory, Says Willis

Failure of Victoria College to inaugurate military training for male students was laid directly at the door of military authorities by the city school board last night in a motion proposed by Trustee F. A. Willis.

Cadet training was in full swing in the lower schools, he declared. Arrangements had been made by the school board and Victoria College faculty for the establishment of the training scheme at Craigdarroch, but no start had been made there, he added.

"I think it's due to the dilatoriness of the military authorities," he declared, saying he did not like to use such a word but that it covered the situation.

George H. Deane, municipal inspector, read a letter from Work Point officials, stating it was not possible to provide arms and equipment for training at college without interfering with training of groups already organized.

Mr. Deane remarked a lot of the drill, exclusive of rifle practice, could be done without equipment and that an instructor only was needed for such activity. Such an instructor was available, he said. He hoped the person carrying on that work among a few students at Normal School could be secured to train the group of more than 100 at college.

The Willis resolution was endorsed by the board. Prior to the business session the board passed Trustee F. G. Mulliner's resolution of condolence to the family of the late Arthur Pike, former school trustee.

There is too much hot air in some city schools, according to Dr. C. W. Sanders, school doctor. Dr. Sanders blamed the absence of vapor trays in heating systems for the lack of humidity, to which he attributed a large number of colds among students of Bank Street and other institutions. He suggested means whereby the condition could be remedied. His proposals were referred to the building and grounds committee.

The board approved the finance committee's report calling for payment of accounts totaling $6,282.50. To date, the committee reported, expenditures stand at $394,360.96.

Improvement work at city schools, including completion of a cement sidewalk at Oaklands, repairs to lockers and completion of the rifle range at the High School, was listed by the building and grounds committee. The group recommended tenders be called for redecorating part of the High School and suggested acceptance of the tender of Lemon-Gonnason Co. for new bicycle racks at the school at a cost of $232.

The High School cafeteria, which used to be a losing proposition, showed a net profit of $103 for the month of October, Trustee Mrs. Margaret Christie reported. She was commended on the work she had done on the cafeteria. Mrs. Christie also stated $533.60 had been spent on blinds in different classrooms throughout the city and $126, plus $40 installation costs, on new lighting fixtures for Oaklands. Similar work was contemplated at George Jay, she reported.

The city school board is ready to co-operate to the limit of its ability, Trustee Percy George, chairman, stated last night as the board received a letter from Hon. Norman McLarty, Minister of Labor, thanking the city for the manner in which it had placed training facilities at the disposal of the Dominion authorities for wartime and vocational activity.

The need for standard fire alarm equipment at Margaret Jenkins School was emphasized in a letter from Fire Chief Alex Munroe, in which the chief paid tribute to the board for its co-operation in his work.

Use of a room in Sir James Douglas School was granted the Civilian Protection committee for meetings of the Fairfield branch.

Christmas vacations for public school students will start December 20 and end January 6, Dr. S. J. Willis advised the board by letter.

Frank LeRoy Dies Suddenly

Frank LeRoy, 71, colorful figure in previous city election campaigns, well-known lodgeman and real estate figure, died suddenly in a downtown office building yesterday afternoon about 4.30. Seized with a heart attack, he passed before medical aid could be secured.

Born in Hamilton, Ohio, Mr. LeRoy came to Victoria approx-

mately 55 years ago and joined the Victoria Fire Department. He later entered the tobacco business, handling wholesale and retail agencies, from which he retired to manage properties and apartments he owned.

In his earlier days here, he was well known in the entertainment field, and frequently performed in coast cities.

He campaigned colorfully though unsuccessfully for the mayoralty, and later sought a post on the aldermanic board. While he was not elected to either, his participation in the civic fights lent definite interest to the contests.

He was among the early members of the Victoria Ratepayers' Association when that body was formed on a platform of tax reduction and protection of the small home owner.

LEADER OF EAGLES

Particularly active in the Fraternal Order of Eagles he was past state president and past grand trustee of the order. Mr. LeRoy also held the post of president of the local series and, interested in athletics, managed the Eagles
